FORT DIX — Their eyes met Tuesday afternoon for the first time in nearly a year, drawing the Somerset couple together at the center of the gymnasium floor.

Tears of joy streamed down Tawana Cruz's cheeks as she held and looked into the face of her husband, New Jersey Army National Guard Spc. Ruben Cruz, who was finally state-side, and safe and sound, after a 10-month tour in Iraq.

He and 143 of his comrades from the New Jersey National Guard's 50th Main Support Battalion, based in Teaneck, were welcomed home by loved ones Tuesday inside the Doughboy Community Gym at Fort Dix where, like many others, Ruben and Tawana Cruz could not stop holding hands and exchanging kisses.

"It's been hard to have your best friend and confidant gone," Tawana Cruz said. "You want to talk to him about things, but you can't. But he's home now, and I'm happy for that."

Ruben Cruz concurred. "It was real hard. But you had to deal with it," he said. "You take it one day at a time. But you can't sit there and cry about it."

While in Iraq, Ruben Cruz worked as a water-treatment specialist, helping to purify water from the Tigris River so his fellow soldiers could drink it.

He, however, would not comment on what he witnessed while at war.

"We had some stuff happen, but I can't talk about it," he said.

For the next few days, Ruben Cruz and the rest of the battalion will undergo the demobilization process.

Kryn P. Westhoven, public affairs officer for the New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans' Affairs, said this involves the turning in of equipment, medical screenings, briefings on what the soldiers are entitled to with regards to jobs they had to leave behind, along with helping to integrate them back into family life.

"They might have paid the bills, but the other parent is doing that," Westhoven said. "They might have been the disciplinarian, but now the other parent is doing that."

Ruben and Tawana Cruz, who have been married for two years, have no children at this time but are looking forward to the future.

The couple met while Tawana Cruz was on vacation in the Virgin Islands, where her husband is originally from.

Ruben Cruz, who will fulfill his commitment to the National Guard in September, plans to get his job back at Newark Liberty International Airport as an employee of the U.S. Transportation Security Administration.

His wife, a hairdresser, said she managed OK financially while her husband was away.

"Now we're just looking forward to getting back to being a couple again. Being honeymooners again," she said. "I'm welcoming him back into my space again."

Ruben Cruz said a lot of relaxation is in order.

"And getting back my closet space," he said.

"Yeah right!" his wife said with a laugh.

SOMERVILLE — The new Medicare Part D prescription drug benefit is set to start enrolling seniors on Nov. 15, and the county and two local congressmen have been working together to help educate seniors about their choices.

Congressman Rodney Frelinghuysen, R-Morristown, spoke to approximately 100 seniors at an information session held Monday morning at Somerset Medical Center.

"Medicare has not completely kept up with advances in medication," said Frelinghuysen, explaining the reasoning behind the new benefit, which was introduced as part of the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003. Currently, Medicare will cover $20,000 for ulcer surgery, Frelinghuysen said, but not $500 prescription medication for prevention of ulcers.

According to Frelinghuysen, approximately 1.2 million New Jersey residents will be eligible to choose a plan under the program, which will help decrease the state's cost for its Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged and Disabled program, known as PAAD, and its SeniorGold prescription assistance program.

Medicare Part D will be offered

Federal grant to aid squad

EDISON — Rep. Mike Ferguson, R-N.J., announced recently that the Edison First Aid and Fire Squad received a $9,329 first-responder grant from the Department of Homeland Security to purchase defibrillators and other emergency response equipment.

Ferguson's 7th Congressional District includes portions of Edison and Woodbridge and South Plainfield in Middlesex County.

The grant is part of a $750 million federal program designed to support more than 5,000 fire protection, EMS delivery and fire prevention programs nationwide.

Federal homeland security grants are not new to the Edison fire department. It also received a $196,000 grant in 2004 and $66,724 in 2002 to purchase equipment to enhance its emergency response capabilities.

"The federal grant will aid Edison officials in meeting their traditional emergency response duties while they also prepare for their homeland security responsibilities, too," Ferguson said. "Because of Edison's proximity to New York City and potential terrorist targets in New Jersey, it's crucial that first responders have the resources to these new challenges."

"Edison officials have been aggressive and successful in seeking

RVCC play puts new twist on old college try

By ALLISON ELYSE GUALTIERI

NORTH BRANCH — As local high school seniors are in the midst of the stress of college admissions season, the theater department at Raritan Valley Community College will be staging "The Innocents' Crusade," about, well, a high school student trying to get into college.

In Keith Reddin's play, Bill, played by Derek Mazukiewicz of Franklin, is on a road trip with his parents doing admissions interviews at various colleges. Despite rejection after rejection, Bill decides to make his trip into a crusade, and attracts a number of different colorful characters along the way, which Mazukiewicz described as "growing up in two weeks."

"Instead of finding a college, he finds this crusade for himself. Everybody's looking for something, and you never know where your feet will be taking you," said Branchburg resident Emese Salopek, one of the students in the show. "If you listen to the lines, the minor characters say things that are very relevant."

Mazukiewicz explained: "In the show, I have to go through many different character changes. The end result is more like myself, but the beginning is a very depressive character, so that's difficult to get in touch with."

Candice King of Somerville plays one of the admissions counselors and another character she described as "a ghetto black waitress."

"It's different in the sense that it has comedy and romance," King said. "It's edgy, and it's things that could happen now."

The show, one of two student productions that the college puts on every semester, got a bit of a late start this year, which meant that students had two fewer weeks to pull it all together, which cast members agreed was one of the biggest challenges in doing the production.

Their experience with director Dennis Russo, a theater instructor at the college, has been a positive one despite the time crunch.

"The director takes big risks, and we hope it works out," said Shelly Brown, of Basking Ridge. Brown plays Bill's mother in the show, which will be her first through private plans, which will then be reimbursed through the Medicare program. Senior citizens can choose from a wide variety of plans, which will offer different premiums and different deductibles. Plans also have different formularies, or lists of the drugs covered by the individual plans. Because of the number of differences in the over 40 plans offered to New Jersey residents under Medicare Part D, choosing a plan is a complex task.

Leslie Norwalk, deputy administrator of the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services, suggested four ways to choose a plan: Cost, coverage, convenience, and piece of mind.

The large range of plans, she said, means that seniors can obtain prescription drug coverage for as little as $5 per month. However, plans with low premiums often have what is called a "coverage gap," so people with mul-tipled medications might want to look at plans with higher premiums, but that don't have a gap or have a lower deductible.

The drugs covered by an individual plan is also a consideration. Under the new benefit, however, every plan offered covers all drugs for cancer, transplants, HIV, and epilepsy, as well as antipsychotics and antidepressants. If a plan denies a medication deemed medically necessary, the prescribing doctor can appeal the decision.

Convenience is also another factor, Norwalk said. If a patient goes to a particular pharmacy or prefers to have medications delivered by mail, he or she should look for a plan that allows those options.

"I think that the drug coverage is terrific and everyone should seriously look at it," Norwalk said. Senior citizens will get notices from their current insurance companies as to how their coverage compares to Medicare's standard coverage. If their coverage is as good as the Medicare standard, a patient may keep that coverage and will not have to pay a penalty if that coverage is lost. However, if a patient decides to join after May 15, 2006, he or she will have to pay a penalty of 1 percent per month waited.

The New Jersey state prescription drug programs will continue as a supplement once Part D coverage starts on Jan. 1, 2006. To help seniors choose coverage and sort through their options, the Somerset County Office on Aging will be offering counselors through the State Health Insurance Program.

"Everybody is trying to do what they can to get the work out. It's a complex issue, and important for those folks who take multiple medications to understand the 42 plans," said Carolann Auger, executive director of the office on aging.

The counselors can talk with residents in person or over the phone, Auger said, and find out how PAAD and SeniorGold work with the Medicare benefit as well as work through their different options with the specially trained counselors.

To make an appointment to speak with a counselor or for more information, call the Somerset County Office on Aging at 1-888-NJ-EASE.

Information and counseling is also available by phone through Medicare at 1-800-MEDICARE, but senior citizens must enroll in a plan by calling, mailing, or e-mailing that plan directly.

Information and help in finding the right plan is also available online at www.medicare.gov.

Another information session, where SHIP counselors will be available to answer questions about the prescription drug plans, will be held from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. on Nov. 14 at the Bridgewater Manor, on Routes 202/206 in Bridgewater.

federal fire-fighting grants since 9/11."

Since the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks, first responders throughout the 7th District have received more than $3 million in federal homeland security funding, including the funds for the Edison firefighters. The 7th District includes portions of Hunterdon, Middlesex, Somerset and Union counties.

Overall, New Jersey has received more than $301 million in homeland security funding, ranking New Jersey as the nation's 11th largest recipient of federal security funds.

The House earlier this month gave final congressional approval to a new funding law targets security funding based on states' threat of terrorist attack — a move that would boost first-responder funding for at-risk states like New Jersey.

Ferguson holds annual workshops for fire chiefs and elected officials in the 7th District to urge them to apply for the homeland security grants and other federal funding.

time on stage, and is a non-traditional student at the college.

"It's a very interesting play. It's timely, because there are a lot of juniors and seniors right now feeling the pressure," Brown said. Her first experience has been a good one so far, she said, and "the kids have been very supportive."

The show is unique, Russo said, because it is a combination of a comedy and a drama, and a bit experimental. "There's definitely parts that are funny, but then it gets dark. So it will be interesting to see how the audience reacts," he said. "The Innocents' Crusade" will be at the Welpe Theater at Raritan Valley Community College through tonight starting at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for students, staff, and faculty, and $8 for the public, and may be obtained by calling (908) 725-3420.

Commentary

In the hands of the voters

On Tuesday voters will have a say in two local issues that will change the face of Somerset County. One affects everyone today; the other could bring change down the road.

Somerset County is asking voters if they will support spending open-space trust fund money for improvements to existing parkland. The money will not automatically be spent. Rather, it gives the county the ability to do so if the need arises. Each year, some $14 million is added to the fund, yet the land available for purchase continues to dwindle, and the cost to purchase that land rises.

At the same time, this year the Parks Commission received a capital planning report that recommended millions be spent over the next several decades to make needed improvements to many of the county's parks. And some of those parks are in dire need of improvements. Unlike the county golf courses, most of the other parks are not money-making ventures in that they receive little funding coming in to cover operating expenses.

Using open space trust fund money to help aid the continued improvement of parkland is a wise use of capital — as long as it continues to be combined with grants and loans from state and federal sources, which is something those advocating the use of funds in this way say will continue. Leaving millions in a fund untouched indefinitely, or using the funds to purchase less-than-desirable land, simply because someone feels the money should be spent, is not fiscally wise.

Locally, in Hillsborough, voters will be asked if they want to change the form of government to a ward system. Currently all five Township Committee members are elected at large, with one member chosen to be mayor. If voters chose to change the system, the result will be a seven-member council with four chosen from wards, three elected at large and a mayor elected by voters.

Those who favor the change — and got the question on the ballot after nearly two years of lawsuits, petitions and arguments — say the township has grown too large to continue to have a township committee system. Those who oppose the change say changing the government would be more complex than some may think — as not only the committee is dissolved to make way for a new council, but the township's boards and commissions also have to be reformed. It would also, opponents say, cost more, because the mayor's salary would increase. Right now the committee person holding the mayor's post is paid an extra $4,000 a year. Opponents also suggest the formation of a charter study to look at other forms of government the township could choose.

In some instances, changing to a ward system has benefited a community, such as in Piscataway in Middlesex County and Franklin Township, which is similar in size and make-up to Hillsborough. There a balance has been struck between serving the needs of those living in the various communities and the needs of the township as a whole. It can also be troublesome, such as in Newark, where the ward system has alienated some residents from each other.

But Hillsborough is closer in size to Piscataway, and, like Piscataway, has distinct differences — from bucolic farmland in Neshanic and Clover Hill to a bustling town center along Route 206 to former industrial sites near the border of Montgomery. Such diversity is best served by those who come from these areas.

The question of changing the township's form of government is also an old one. It dates beyond this referendum, back to a time in the 1990s when the township began its most recent growth spurt. Yes, changing the form of government will be complex, and not without its share of pain, but the township has reached a point where it can no longer serve the needs of everyone without making this change.

And it is a change that needs to be examined by other communities. If voters do choose to change Hillsborough's government, it may send a message to other large communities in Somerset County, such as Bridgewater, Bedminster, Montgomery and Warren, that they too may want to consider a change.

Question of the week: Will you be voting on Tuesday?

Democracy is about choices

To The Editor:

As a former appointed Somerville councilperson, I have had the opportunity to see local politics from both a party-represented — Republican — and independent position.

At the time of my departure from the Republican Party, I had become convinced that an alliance of like minds was necessary for anything of political consequence to be achieved in Somerville. I was also convinced that such an alliance needed to start from a position of total independence from the two-party duopoly.

My departure was timed with another's, albeit for slightly different reasons. There was originally some common ground on the basis of a desire to do what was in Somerville's best interests.

However, I found a departure from that common ground because of a politics of anger, and ultimately the impression that two parties had just become three hastened my retreat from campaigns altogether.

In the time since, I have re-registered as a Republican (where my heart has always been) but maintain a staunch independence towards political issues. I also see that the current alliance of minds (aka Borough Council) is working well together and has the overall interests of Somerville at heart while still maintaining their differences.

An honest appraisal of the future of Somerville must start by admitting that the path ahead is still strewn with obstacles. There are a number of boundaries that the candidates and subsequently those elected must address in order to work together effectively. The incoming council need only reference the current council for a lesson on how to accomplish just that.

At this point, we need to find the right people to help Somerville reach its goals. Listen carefully to what the candidates are saying and make sure they're saying things for the right reasons. We, as a voting body, are very intuitive. Policy may get fuzzy but intention always shines through.

As of this writing, I have chosen at least one candidate. My other vote is still up for grabs. Not that this is necessarily a bad thing. Democracy is about choice, and at least we're being presented with clear ones.

Election is about borough's future

To The Editor:

This election will be one of the most important for the future of Somerville, with the Pathmark redevelopment and the landfill development issues coming to a head.

I am a registered Democrat but vote independently. I vote for the person running for office, not their party affiliation. I have voted for both parties over the years and have seen no positive change from either Republican or Democratic representation. Both promise us that they will be different than those elected before them.

But Somerville residents have a third choice again this year, independent candidates Nick Riga and George Bouziotis. Nick Riga, 41, was born and raised in Somerville. He and his wife have three children and are active in many youth activities. Riga was elected as Somerville councilman in 2000, was council president and police commissioner in 2003 and 2004. He's also on both Citizens Advisory and Shared Services committees. Riga will bring the leadership and business experience to the Borough Council that we, as Somerville residents, deserve and can trust.

George Bouziotis, 45, has been in Somerville since 1979. He and his wife have five children. Bouziotis has served on Somerville's Board of Education. He is a member of Somerville Fire Department's Engine Company No. 1 and has served as captain. Bouziotis is a member of the Somerville Elks and active on several community committees. Bouziotis is dedicated to helping Somerville and will bring enthusiasm to the Borough Council.

Riga and Bouziotis have attended countless council, Planning Board and other committee meetings so that they can represent Somerville in the best ways possible. Together Riga and Bouziotis will work for non-partisan politics to move Somerville forward. I hope you will join me in supporting Nick Riga and George Bouziotis for Somerville Borough Council on Tuesday to make Somerville's future real.

Raritan needs change on Borough Council

To The Editor:

The news article that Phil Possessky, now former mayor of Raritan, resigned in disgrace appalls me. So should it be to every voter who put him and his fellow Democrats in office.

What is even more outrageous is that the members of the Borough Council all feigning ignorance to the fact the former mayor's actions took place under their watch.

According to recent articles, the Borough Council allowed the overage charges of $1,200 to two cell phones to be paid directly by the borough. If using borough cell phones for personal use was serious enough to be an indictable charge, where does the borough council get the authority to allow payment back to the borough without a police investigation? How does the council not question when a large riding mower is purchased and not used by the borough, but by the former mayor for his private use? Where was the council liaison to the Department of Public Works when this is going on? Who was the council liaison?

This is not what the residents of Raritan expect or deserve from their elected officials.

It is time for a change of how Raritan conducts the business of keeping itself the wonderful place to live and raise a family. Increasing our tax bill with theft and denial is not the way to go.

I am voting this year for the Republican candidates for council, which will send a message to the Democrat-controlled council that enough is enough.

Leaders should get nod

To The Editor:

I am writing to endorse Bob Albano, Howard Norgalis and Michael Hsing for re-election as members of the Township Council. Each has exhibited a commitment to the ongoing effort to control sprawl through open space preservation and revisions in the township's Master Plan land use regulations. These issues vitally affect the quality of life in our town and future. I applaud their leadership.

Letters to the Editor

Independents add interest

To The Editor:

The race for the two seats on the Somerville Borough Council is really exciting, thanks mostly to the strong, competent and concerned independent candidates Nick Riga and George Bouziotis.

If their campaigns are successful, the two-party balance of Republicans and Democrats will change profoundly for what might be the first time in this town's history.

After moving to Somerville in January of this year, my wife and I have gotten to know Nick and George these past nine months through our neighbors and through participation in community activities such as Little League. Upon hearing that we were new in town, Nick and George personally took time one evening this spring to give us a guided tour and talk at length about the proud history and vast potential of today's Somerville. After making the largest investment of our lives and moving ourselves and our son to this great town, receiving hospitality such as this made us confident that we had made the right decision in making Somerville our home.

The results of the campaign by Riga and Bouziotis are evident as soon as you enter the borough. Many residents — myself included — proudly display "Riga and Bouziotis" campaign signs in front yards throughout the town. It appears that carrying the Riga and Bouziotis' message door-to-door has produced what many towns are desperate for: Two viable, effective candidates for council who clearly put the best interest of all Somerville residents first.

Through their actions, many residents of Somerville are speaking, and what they are saying is this: let us develop smartly, without continuous knee-jerk decisions that always seem to favor the deep pockets of building developers. Let us not alienate long-time businesses which have supported Main Street through thick and thin. Let us stop the public "sniping" through local newspapers over "who's right" in the on-going arguments involving the Downtown Somerville Shopping Center redevelopment project.

It is my belief that Nick Riga and George Bouziotis have struck a nerve with the people. They have demonstrated by both word and action their intentions to represent the interests of their constituents first and foremost.

Their campaign has already sent a message. I am looking forward to see what they can do for Somerville as members of the Somerville council.

Incumbents deserve reelection

To The Editor:

As a Bridgewater resident, I am proud of the fact that this is a great place to live. There are three candidates seeking reelection who, in my opinion, will continue to enhance our way of life.

Bob Albano has been on the Township Council for almost 20 years now, knows the working of our form of government inside and out. He knows the ropes. He knows the history. Who else can offer that expertise?

Howard Norgalis has served our community for 29 years as a volunteer firefighter. He is a grassroots person. On the council, he serves Bridgewater with the high energy and sincerity we need in these difficult times. Who else can offer that commitment?

Michael Hsing has served on the Open Space Committee and Technology Committee. His ability to address concerns in detail and with diligence about overdevelopment and technological issues will also serve Bridgewater well. Who else can offer that dimension?

It has been my privilege to become acquainted with all three gentlemen and their families. I heartily endorse them for reelection to the township council.

Bound Brook carpet store donates profits

If you're in the market for carpet - wall-to-wall, stair runners, remnants - make sure you stop by B&B Carpets on Main Street in Bound Brook this weekend.

Owner Ike Hishmeh says he will donate all his profits from sales tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday to Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005.

Three weeks ago, Hishmeh, who came to the United States from Jerusalem in 1967, ran a similar promotion, donating the weekend's profits to victims of Hurricane Katrina.

Once the doors closed Sunday, the tally came to $800; his 18-year-old son Jacob, who works with his father, donated his take home pay from his part-time job, pushing the total past $1,000.

Hishmeh is confident this weekend's promotion will have similar success.

"It's the least we can do," he said.

B&B Carpets is open tomorrow, 8 a.m.-8 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.-6 p.m. and Sunday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. The storefront is at the intersection of Main Street and Mountain Boulevard.

Call (732) 469-4800 for further information.

1,000 boxes to go

Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 volunteers will be busy today and tomorrow getting ready for Saturday's Holiday box and ship event at the American Legion Post 327, 77 Old York Road, Bradley Gardens.

More than 200 volunteers are expected to help out between noon and 6 p.m. Our goal is to pack and ship 1,000 holiday boxes to U.S. troops in the Mideast.

You're invited to join us. The event will be catered by several restaurants in Raritan, who have generously donated several pasta dishes, as well as sandwiches and pizza.

Please call us at (908) 575-6684 if you're interested in helping out.

Marathon Man

There's still time to catch Somerville Borough Council President Rob Wilson before he sets off to run in Sunday's New York City Marathon - a grueling 26.2-mile road race through the five boroughs of Manhattan.

Back in August, Wilson had asked if Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 would consider his offer to donate money he collected from supporters who agreed to pledge money for every mile he completed.

Since then, he's put in hundreds of miles of roadwork preparing for the international race, which attracts 35,000 runners.

So far, Wilson has collected several hundred dollars in per-mile pledges. His goal is to hit $1,000. We'd like to see him exceed that goal - as well as finish the race.

"It's my hope that just the number of spectators and running with 35,000 other people will motivate me to get to the finish line," he said.

Wilson will be one of the volunteers helping out Saturday in Bradley Gardens at the American Legion post. We'll also encourage more people to make pledges to Wilson during the event.

Pledges can be called in to Wilson at his office, (908) 722-7555, or at home, (908) 252-9614, or e-mail him at rob@tombadorelaw.com.

Progress Report

GEORGE PACCIELLO/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

This sign alongside Old York Road at the American Legion Post 327 in Bradley Gardens advertises this Saturday's Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 packing and shipping event. Volunteers will gather from noon-6 p.m. to prepare 1,000 boxes for shipment overseas to U.S. troops.

Milltown, is working on his Eagle Scout project in conjunction with Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005. He and members of his troop collected donated grocery items and solicited donations outside the Acme Supermarket on Milltown Road in East Brunswick Oct. 23, and collected dozens of bags of items while raising $570 in donations, which will be used for postage.

Keith and his fellow troop members will be outside the store again this Sunday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

OPSHBX volunteers collected several hundred bags of donated supplies outside the Stop & Shop supermarket, Route 28, Bound Brook last Saturday. Those items have been sorted and are ready for shipping this Saturday. Our volunteers also collected over $300 in donations.

Honor roll

Contributions big and small continue to arrive. Our thanks goes to: Somerset County Cultural Diversity Coalition, $550; Boonton Auto Parts, $500; The Plus Companies, Bridgewater, $500; Peter Newman, Succasunna, $200; Northwest Construction, Flanders, $200; Lloyd Kendall, York, Pa., $100; Columbia Too Auto Wreckers, Port Murray, $100; Doris and Nicholas Pisani, Hillsborough, $100; Anthony Carpinello and Michele Blakeney, Whippany, $100; Ronald Barker, Madison, $100; Tim Grooms, Bridgewater, $50; Frances Schwarz, Bernardsville, $50; Gary and Louise Heidenreich, Neshanic Station, $50.

We'd also like to thank three physicians - Dr. Glen Landesman, Dr. Joe Smith and Dr. Joel Weinstein of Your Doctors Care, Route 206 Hillsborough - for their gift of a $100 gift card from Wal-Mart. We used the card to purchase foot powder, sun block, eye drops and moist wipes.

T-shirts for sale

Quality t-shirts with the handsome Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 poster and logo are available.

A shipment of medium and large shirts from our supplier has arrived; those on back order will be shipped by the end of the week. We thank you for your patience.

Several stores on Main Street in Somerville are selling the shirts, which feature the distinctive red, white and blue Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 logo, and a full-color reproduction of the Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 poster.

The shirts cost $10 and are also available at The Chronicle office, 44 Veterans Memorial Drive East, and at several stores on Main Street in Metuchen. All proceeds from sale of the shirts directly benefit OPSHBX.

Buy one for yourself, buy a few as gifts. We can also reproduce the shirts in quantity for veterans' groups, corporations, or other sponsors, and include the name of your company or organization on the shirt. Call and ask for details.

SOMERSET MEDICAL CENTER

State approves elective angioplasties

By ALLISON ELYSE GUALTIERI
Staff Writer

SOMERVILLE — Somerset Medical Center has received state approval to join a pilot program that will offer patients elective coronary angioplasties.

"The addition of elective angioplasty services will greatly improve Somerset County residents' access to cardiac care," said Kenneth Bateman, president of Somerset Medical Center. "There is no other facility in the county that provides elective angioplasty. This approval is also testament to the high quality of our cardiac program, our cardiologists, nurses, technicians and entire cardiac team."

The program, known as the Atlantic C-PORT Elective Angioplasty Study, seeks to determine whether the surgery can be performed safely in hospitals without a cardiac surgery unit. Hospitals in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Alabama and Georgia will also participate in the three-year study.

The state Department of Health and Senior Services notified the hospital of its approval Tuesday.

The hospital had received preliminary approval to perform the surgery from the State Health Planning Board last month; their application for a cardiac surgery unit was denied two years ago, a decision that is still under appeal. Competition for cardiac procedures among New Jersey hospitals is fierce and application approvals are a highly political process, as the procedures generate revenue.

Currently, hospital staff can perform an angioplasty on a patient experiencing a heart attack, but if the patient is stable, the procedure is considered elective and the patient must be transferred to a hospital with a cardiac surgery unit, according to state regulations. Had the cardiac surgery unit been approved, the hospital would have been allowed to perform the procedure as a part of the unit.

There is no timeframe yet as to when the hospital will begin to offer the elective form of the surgery, which involves inserting a balloon through a catheter into a blocked artery to allow blood flow around the obstruction.

Somerset Medical Center was one of 18 hospitals that had submitted an application to perform the procedure and had the largest number of emergency angioplasties of those hospitals that applied. During the three-year study, patients that require the surgery will be assigned to have the procedure at either the participating hospital where they had the diagnostic catheterization, or transferred to one with a cardiac surgery unit on a random basis. For the next six months, researchers will monitor the health of the participating patients.

Warren students boost UNICEF

By AMY S. BOBROWSKI
Staff Writer

WARREN — Alyson Schapira, dressed as a skeleton with bad teeth and her sister Danielle, dressed as a spooky dark ghost, couldn't wait to hit the streets in their cozy neighborhood Monday night to go trick-or-treating.

In one hand, they each carried their candy bags, in the other, they carried small orange boxes that jingled when they walked.

Besides picking up a Reese's Peanut Butter cup here and a Snickers bar there, the girls also collected spare change for UNICEF — the United Nations Children's Fund.

Those who answered their doors to trick-or-treaters were just as enthusiastic about giving change as they were about giving out candy.

In just a few hours of trick-or-treating the girls, both Woodland School pupils, collected more than $50 for the fund. Woodland School, which has been participating in the Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF program for several years, distributed the UNICEF boxes to pupils shortly before Halloween.

"The kids really get it," said Principal Chic Hansen. "They know they're helping someone."

Indeed, the Schapira girls know just what a little spare change can do.

"For $150, you can get a well of pure water for a whole village," Alyson Schapira said. "For $350, you can get a tent for a family who lost their home."

Last year, the school collected $1,275 for the fund. The year before, students collected more than $1,700.

"This is the fifth year I've done this," 10-year-old Alyson Schapira said. "UNICEF helps children in need. This year for the first time ever, half the money will go to America and the kids from Katrina. It'll probably make people want to give more because they know it's going to America."

For the first time, since its inception 55 years ago, monies raised from Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF will benefit programs in the United States. Over the course of those 55 years, the program has raised more than $127 million for the fund's life-saving work for impoverished children in developing countries, according to a release issued by UNICEF.

"I just feel bad for the people who don't have a home or who don't have their mommies to keep them warm or their daddies to give them medicine," 8-year-old Danielle Schapira said. "It makes me feel better and better and better to give them something."

Alyson Schapira counts money she collected while trick-or-treating on Halloween. She and her sister, Danielle, along with other students at Woodland School, will donate the money to the United Nations Children's Fund. The school has been involved in the UNICEF program for several years, according to Chic Hansen, school principal.

Middlesex rebounds to whip Metuchen

Coming off their first loss and facing an opponent needing to win the Blue Jays could have been excused for being a bit off, but that didn't prove to be the case, although they did start slowly Saturday.

After giving away the ball two of the first three times it touched it the Middlesex High football team put together another impressive performance as it scored at least once in each quarter and rolled to a 44-14 victory over host Metuchen in a Greater Middlesex Conference Blue Division game.

With the victory the Blue Jays improved to 6-1 to just about wrap up a berth in the race for a Central Jersey Group I playoff berth, which begin next weekend. Middlesex squared off with Roselle Park, a team it could eventual face in the post-season, last night in non-conference play.

Metuchen, meanwhile, missed an opportunity to at least qualify for a berth in CJ I, although gaining a spot would probably have been unlikely, as the Bulldogs fell to 3-5. Metuchen hosts Bound Brook today, and will close out the regular season with a consolation game next weekend.

Senior quarterback Matt Campanella delivered another strong performance to lead the way as he carried 16 times for 102 yards and two touchdowns while completing two of five passes for 68 yards and one score.

For the time this season, however, even in its 21-13 loss to Bishop Ahr, Middlesex did not have at least a two-touchdown lead at halftime as the early turnovers allowed Metuchen to give Blue Jays a game for a half, but after taking a 20-14 lead at the break Middlesex put the game away over the final 24 minutes.

The Bulldogs opened the scoring three minutes into the game when Lenny Bing grabbed an 18-yard scoring pass from Jordan Leitner following a Middlesex fumble. Middlesex, however, responded with three unanswered scores to take a 20-7 advantage.

Dan Esposito, who picked up 90 yards on 21 carries, put the Blue Jays on the scoreboard with a 4-yard TD run, while Campanella got in on a 1-yard sneak with Esposito notching the two-point conversion on a run as Middlesex went up 14-7 lead after one quarter.

Dom Nitoli accounted for the Blue Jays' second-period TD on a 4-yard run, but Metuchen closed the gap to one score at halftime when Bing scored from the 2 following a 48-yard pass from Leitner to Kyle Edmonds with 34 seconds left before intermission.

Middlesex pushed the lead to 30-14 through three periods as Bobby Cleveland hauled in a 22-yard scoring pass from Campanella to end a five-play, 42-yard drive following a Corey LaSala interception. Esposito followed with the conversion run and the defense chipped in with a safety.

Following the safety the Blue Jays took the free kick and marched 48 yards in 10 plays with Campanella sneaking in from the 1, while Natoli's 1-yard run finished off a 71-yard, 15-play maneuver that used up a lot of the fourth-quarter clock.

Defensively, thanks in part to its ball-control offense, Middlesex turned in another strong showing, holding the Bulldogs to less than 50 yards on the ground and limiting Leitner to three completions for 79 yards and two interceptions in 13 passes.

Piscataway reaches the GMCT semis

In perhaps their best performance of the season the Chiefs left no doubts on the field as to their superiority with a berth in a tournament semifinal on the line.

In a meeting of nearly even teams seeding-wise, fourth-ranked Piscataway High dominated fifth-rated Colonia Oct. 28 in the quarter-finals of the Greater Middlesex Conference Girls Soccer Tournament on its way to a 5-0 victory to gain a spot in the semis against top-seeded East Brunswick.

Cecily King fueled a balanced Piscataway attack that saw five players score and out-shoot Colonia (13-4) 16-7 with a goal and three assists. Rebecca Adam and Adrienne Schroeffer contributed a goal and an assist apiece, while Melissa DiLello and Larissa Rosenberg chipped in with goals.

Caitlin Wesnesky (four) and Pam Wiley combined for the shutout with seven saves between them as the Chiefs improved to 9-5 for the season.

West Windsor-Plainsboro South 4, Edison 0 — Surrendering two goals in each half the 11th-seeded Eagles could not keep pace with sixth-ranked West Windsor-Plainsboro South (12-2-1) and were eliminated from Central Jersey Group IV play Monday while dropping to 9-8-1 for the year.

Spotswood 4, J.P. Stevens 1 — Seventh-ranked Spotswood jumped out to a 4-0 lead at halftime and cruised from there to knock the 18th-ranked Hawks from the GMCT in the quarter-finals Saturday. Jessica Hladky scored in the second half to avoid the shutout for Stevens, which fell to 3-11-2. Maria Conway turned back 16 shots in goal for the Hawks.

Woodbridge 3, Edison 0 — After a scoreless first both teams scored twice in the first 35 minutes of the second half before third-seeded Woodbridge broke a tie with five minutes left to earn the GMCT quarter-final triumph Saturday. Ashley Cuhna and Melissa Coffman scored for the Eagles, who received eight saves from Laura Robinson.

Piscataway 2, Bishop Ahr 1 — Stunned early by 13th-rated Bishop Ahr (8-6) the Chiefs rallied to advance out of the second round of the GMCT Oct. 26 behind a pair of second-half goals by Melissa DiLello and a defense that allowed the Trojans only two shots on goal following intermission.

J.P. Stevens 1, Sayreville 0 — Maria Conway turned away Sayreville's attempt after Jessica Hladky connected on the Hawks' first shot in a sudden-death shootout as 19th-ranked Stevens shocked the second-seeded Bombers (11-3-2) in the second round Oct. 26. Conway earned the shutout with 20 saves for the Hawks, who were out-shot 24-4. The teams drew 4-4 in the opening round of the shootout.

Edison 1, Monroe 0 — Ashley Cuhna converted a pass from Stephanie Shields off a corner from Loretta Viento as the Eagles upset sixth-ranked Monroe (10-5-1) in the second round Oct. 26. Laura Robinson registered 10 saves to earn the shutout for 9-6-1 Edison.

Woodbridge 4, Metuchen 0 — Visiting third-seeded Woodbridge (12-4-1) in the second round Oct. 27 the 14th-rated Bulldogs fell behind 2-0 at halftime and were out-shot 15-4 for the game to fall to 9-7-1 for the season with the loss.

BOYS SOCCER

A two-goal deficit at halftime proved too much for the 17th-seeded Eagles to overcome in second-round play Oct. 27 as top-ranked North Brunswick (13-1) held on to avoid a stunning upset for a 2-1 victory. Jason Tonic had 14 saves for Edison, which slipped to 3-13-1, while Eric Swanstrom connected on one of the four shots on goal the Eagles managed.

John F. Kennedy 1, South Plainfield 0 — Taking on third-rated and undefeated Kennedy (14-0) the Tigers gave their hosts a battle before surrendering a goal with nine minutes left in regulation in the second round Oct. 27. Stephen Kelly had a strong performance in goal for South Plainfield, which dropped to 3-13-1, with 10 saves.

Monroe 3, J.P. Stevens 0 — The 15th-ranked Hawks kept it close for a half, trailing 1-0 at halftime, but second-seeded

ELI LOPATIN/CORRESPONDENT

South Plainfield High's Chris Tapia controls the ball during a game earlier this season. The Tigers battled undefeated John F. Kennedy all the way in the second round the GMC Boys Soccer Tournament before dropping a 1-0 decision Oct. 27.

Monroe (16-2) added a pair of insurance goals to claim a second-round victory Oct. 27. Scott Brody recorded 12 saves for Stevens, which was out-shot 15-3 in falling to 7-10.

Colonia 5, Middlesex 2 — Trailing 2-1 at the half the 20th-rated Blue Jays could not keep up in the second half and were eliminated in the opening round Oct. 26 by 13th-seeded Colonia (6-7-2). John Velsasco and Kyle Handley collected the goals for Middlesex, which fell to 6-9-1.

FIELD HOCKEY

There were no Tigers on the prowl for another GMCT crown after an overtime penalty send South Plainfield home for the tourney.

After taking leads of 1-0 and 2-1 the third-ranked Tigers, who fell to 11-6, could not maintain their offensive production after halftime as second-seeded East Brunswick (13-3) rallied for a 3-2 victory when it converted a penalty stroke in overtime.

Champion in 2002 and 2003 while finishing second last fall,

South Plainfield saw its streak of final-round appearances come to an end when goalie Dana Chepulis, who had made 17 saves, was unable to stop Kathleen Leone's stroke.

Megan Wilson gave the Tigers an early advantage by converting a feed from Julie Bosse five minutes into the game, and after the Bears knotted the match 11:35 into the game Bosse answered later in the half. East Brunswick, however, tied the game at 2-2 into the second half.

South Plainfield, Bound Brook gain third wins

After weeks of trying to produce something with its ground game it all came together for the Tigers.

Jamar Beverley had his best game of the season and Opie Muse delivered a strong effort, and the South Plainfield High football team needed all of it as the Tigers held off Perth Amboy for a 21-14 Greater Middlesex Conference White Division victory Oct. 28.

With the victory South Plainfield improved to 3-5 for the year. The Tigers got this weekend off, and will look to inch closer to .500 against a consolation-week opponent to be determined.

Slowed by an ankle injury most of the season Beverley's senior year hasn't been what he and the Tigers were hoping for, but against Perth Amboy he came through with 131 yards on 19 carries. Muse, meanwhile, followed with 95 yards and scored once, and Mike Jakubik chipped in with 41 yards and two touchdowns on five touches.

Muse put South Plainfield on the board with a 44-yard run in the second quarter, but the Panthers came back to take an 8-7 lead at halftime on a 24-yard TD pass by quarterback James Harrell, who connected on 18 of 34 passes for 286 yards and two scores.

The second half belonged to Jakubik as the sophomore put the Tigers in front with a 6-yard run, caught a conversion pass following that score and extended the lead with a 9-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Perth Amboy, which fell to 1-6 with five of the losses coming by a touchdown or less, had chances other than its one second-half touchdown, but the Panthers had a 20-play drive stall at the Tigers' 5 and then lost a fumble at the South 9 following a fumble recovery at the 34.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Bound Brook 14, North Warren 13 — Devon Baker made two big plays and Kevin Porras followed with the PAT kicks as Bound Brook edged host North Warren Oct. 29 in a non-conference battle to earn its second straight victory and improve to 3-4.

It was a meeting between two teams that will be league rivals a year from now in the Skyland Conference Baker proved to be the difference, although the Crusaders certainly needed both conversion placements from Porras.

North Warren led 7-0 after one quarter, but Bound Brook tied it in the second when Baker took a reverse and dashed 72 yards for the TD.

The Patriots (1-7) moved back in front in the fourth quarter but missed the PAT run attempt. Bound Brook answered immediately when Baker took back the ensuing kickoff 80 yards for a touchdown and Porras added what proved to be the winning point. It was Baker's second kickoff return for a touchdown and the team's third.

Old Bridge 26, J.P. Stevens 19 — Taking advantage of some first-half turnovers the Hawks built a 19-6 lead at halftime, but they couldn't hold it as Old Bridge rallied for a GMC-Red Division triumph Oct. 28.

Facing a team that was coming off its first loss — a 49-16 rout at the hands of Piscataway in meeting of unbeaten teams — Stevens took advantage of the Knights' slow start to build its halftime advantage, but the 6-1 Knights put together three drives of at least 65 yards and shut down the Hawks' offense following halftime.

Stevens wasted little time in taking the lead as it took the opening kickoff and marched down the field for a touchdown. Quarterback Greg Sica hooked up with end J.R. Padilla for a 27-yard scoring pass.

Following the ensuing kickoff Mike Light recovered a bad pitchout by the Knights for Stevens at the Old Bridge 11. Two plays later, Kenny Melford went in from the 10 for a 13-0 lead, which the Hawks took into the second quarter.

Old Bridge got untracked in the second period with a 59-yard TD pass, but the Hawks regained their two-score lead when Omari Nelson scored from the 6.

Playing without Tamar Robinson the Hawks didn't get much down on the ground with Nelson's 43 yards more than the team's total output of 29. Sica, meanwhile, completed 5 of 12 passes for 109 yards.

The Hawks, who slipped to 2-5, hosted North Brunswick last night, will have a consolation game next weekend.

Sayreville 35, Edison 7 — Prepping for its showdown last night with Piscataway Sayreville improved to 6-2 for the season with a GMC-Red Division triumph over Edison, which fell to 0-7 for the year with its 38th straight loss.

The Bombers scored on their second play from scrimmage and kept the Eagles out of the end zone until Glen Scott (53 yards on 17 carries) dashed 17 yards on the final play of the game. Sayreville led 14-0 after one quarter and owned a 21-0 advantage at halftime.

Edison, which played Perth Amboy last night and has a consolation game next weekend, did have some success throwing the ball as QB John Cirri completed 16 of 26 passes for 152 yards.

Chiefs explode after halftime

NORTH BRUNSWICK — Perhaps benefiting from its place on the schedule North Brunswick threw a scare into the undefeated Chiefs — although it was another one of those brief threats.

Coming off a big victory over Old Bridge in a meeting of unbeaten teams and maybe looking ahead to last night's clash with Sayreville for the outright Greater Middlesex Conference Red Division title, the Piscataway High football squad struggled for a half before pulling away in the second half for a 35-13 victory Oct. 28.

With the decision the Chiefs earned its seventh triumph of the season and its 23rd in a row over the past three years. The upset-minded Raiders slipped to 4-3. Piscataway, all but assured itself of at least the second seed in the North Jersey 2 Group IV playoffs and could pass Phillipsburg by defeating Sayreville last night.

Sayreville, which won its fifth straight in division play with a 35-7 verdict over Edison, was the only one left to prevent the Chiefs from claiming a second straight Red Division crown.

Against North Brunswick running back Kevin Woolfolk turned in the best performance of the season with 210 yards on 25 carries while scoring twice. After picking up 57 yards in the opening half Woolfolk exploded after halftime with 163 yards and 16 tries.

DaJuan Gratz caught two scoring passes from different quarterbacks and Daniel You had a third scoring reception while added 34 yards rushing on five carries.

North Brunswick got most of offensive yardage from Aaron Jackson, who carried 28 times for 128 yards and the Raiders' touchdowns — a 2-yard run in the opening session and a 27-yard dash in the fourth quarter. Other than the yardage by Jackson the Piscataway defense limited the Raiders to 27 yards.

After Jackson's first-quarter TD gave North Brunswick the early advantage it was just about all Piscataway after that, although it took the Chiefs into the second half to open things up, relying on their big offensive line to wear down the Raiders.

Piscataway's first points came on a 12-yard touchdown pass from Marcus Wright to Gratz in the second quarter with Marquis Salazar adding the first of five successful PAT placements. Wright went on to complete 4 of 7 passes for 66 yards and two scores.

Woolfolk put the Chiefs ahead to stay in the third period when he dashed 12 yards, while Gratz added a second TD in the period when he hauled in a 50-yard pass from the team's other quarterback Tony Logan, who connected on 3 of 4 attempts for 66 yards.

You got in on the scoring in the scoring in the fourth period when he collaborated with Wright on a 25-yard pass play, while Woolfolk notched his second touchdown of the game and 17th of the campaign with a 21-yard run. Woolfolk's second TD capped a series in which he also had runs of 12 and 14 yards.
