Bike hall of fame still seeks a home

By AMY S. BOBROWSKI
Staff Writer

SOMERVILLE — From the very beginning, the U.S. Bicycling Hall of Fame never had a home to call its own.

This week, the Borough Council slammed the door once again.

On Monday night officials deferred a request from the Hall of Fame for $25,000 that would fund a study and help market a large-scale capital campaign that would enable it to find a new — permanent — home.

When the borough signed the redevelopment agreement with Edgewood Properties, the developer of the Downtown Somerville Shopping Center, it included a $100,000 donation to the borough, which Mayor Brian Gallagher said was "potentially earmarked" for the hall.

"All along, the understanding has been it would be for the Bicycling Hall of Fame if it could prove the ability to sustain itself," he said.

But the council was hesitant at this point to dole any of those funds out as the project has not yet even broken ground.

"We only have a $25,000 deposit from the developer so far," Gallagher said. "I think council will be a little hesitant to give that out before the project's completed."

That doesn't mean, however, that the hall won't ever get the funds.

Council President Robert Wilson said the hall also needs to make a commitment to stay in the borough before the council gives it the funds.

"At this point, we don't know if the hall is going to return to Somerville," he said. "We don't want to give them $25,000 if they're going to be moving elsewhere."

Rich Reitman, a member of the board of trustees for the organization, founded in 1987, said the hall has research and looked at a "few properties" in and around the borough, though he would not comment further on their location.

Though the request was deferred, the council invited the hall to seek funds again once it selected a location and once the redevelopment

IMMIGRATION AT A CROSSROADS

Felix Garcia speaks about proposed legislation that would toughen immigration law from his new office in North Plainfield. Garcia, who emigrated from Ecuador in 2000, was a civil rights attorney. He will specialize in helping immigrants living in Central Jersey.

He speaks for those in fear

NORTH PLAINFIELD — On a day when hundreds of thousands of immigrants across the nation put their jobs and school aside to protest for citizenship and amnesty, Felix Garcia proudly went to work on Monday.

Protesters took to the streets in cities across the nation to oppose a bill that calls for stricter immigration laws to toughen penalties against the country's estimated 12 million illegal immigrants and those who help them.

For Garcia, though, Monday was a new beginning — the first day at work in his new borough office. Garcia, who moved to the United States from Ecuador in 2000, set up shop as a legal consultant.

Before moving to the states, Garcia was a civil rights attorney. He's currently pursuing his attorney licenses in the United States, however a fire last year at the Green Brook home he shares with his wife, delayed the process. For the past year The Reporter has followed the couple as they have rebuilt their home.

But just because he doesn't officially have his license in the United States, doesn't mean that Garcia can't help the surrounding community that often reminds him of home.

"The largest population of Hispanics and people from Ecuador are in North, central and South Plainfield," said Garcia, who is a notary public. "I love the flag of the United States. I gave my oath to the flag and to the Constitution. But I don't forget my roots."

The small second-story office, decorated with an American flag and Garcia's degrees and citizenship certificate, has already received several clients.

"The immigrants already are coming to my office for problems with drugs, traffic violations and immigration," he said. "I will give legal advice and I have attorneys who will work for me."

Garcia will guide his clients with legal issues and can refer them to organizations, attorneys and other services if necessary. He expects the majority of his cases to focus on immigration issues. He'll be working with Frederick Bojum, a borough attorney, who could use Garcia's knowledge.

"I, as an attorney, do not handle immigration issues," Bojum said. "I'll send them to him. I'll backstop him with clients he may not be able to handle, for an appearance in court, for example. He, perhaps, could be a translator for me."

The opening of the office on Monday was a symbolic gesture.

"Here, most Hispanics didn't go to work," Garcia said. "It was a way of protesting for amnesty and a new law. I respect the protest and I hope to have a good law soon."

Garcia said he'd support a law that grants citizenship to people who've been in the United States for more than

BOUND BROOK Birthday 'party' to continue

BOUND BROOK — The borough will continue its celebration with another ceremony commemorating the 325th anniversary of Bound Brook to be held at the Old Presbyterian Graveyard 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Bound Brook/Middlesex Rotary sponsored a physical refurbishing of the historic Old Presbyterian Graveyard located at the corner of East and East High Streets, adjacent to the Bound Brook Memorial Library. Members of the club cleaned up the neglected site and placed two new bronze signs at the entrance to identify the graveyard. The club has committed to keeping the graveyard in good condition with regularly scheduled maintenance days.

Aided by an initial gift from the Rotary, two Bound Brook Memorial Library employees, Mary Nelson and Cynthia Santiago, created an electronic file of the known interred in the Old Presbyterian Graveyard. This information is posted on the Internet, so anyone with an interest in Bound Brook's past or the Bound Brook inhabitants of the 18th and 19th centuries may access a wealth of genealogical information from any Internet computer.

The number of Americans interested in family history research is growing dramatically. Genealogy ranks third as the most popular pastime in the country, behind stamp collecting and coin collecting. Over the past decade, the Internet, email and electronic document delivery have helped to feed this explosive interest in genealogy and libraries are working to meet these specialized needs in creative ways. Cemetery transcriptions provide birth and death information for an ancestor. Family relationships become apparent or can be further explored from information on gravestones and their proximity to one another.

The Old Presbyterian Graveyard dates from the early 1700s.

There are likely many unmarked graves from the late 1600s as well. Interest in this cemetery often stems from the fact that there are seventy or so Revolutionary War soldiers buried there, approximately forty-five of which are identified. There

Pope recognizes service in diocese

Pope Benedict XVI has bestowed pontifical honors upon 25 priests, religious and laity in the Diocese of Metuchen in recognition of their distinguished service to the church and the diocese. The honorees were nominated by Bishop Paul Gregory Boockoski, who conferred the pontifical awards in a recently-held special prayer service at St. Francis of Assisi Cathedral in Metuchen.

In asking the pope to grant the papal honors, Boockoski noted that the honorees have made significant contributions to the mission of the church and that recognizing them would be a special way for the diocese to commemorate its 25th anniversary.

Five members of the laity will become knights in the Order of St. Gregory the Great. First established by Pope Gregory XVI in 1831 to honor citizens of the Papal States, the order is conferred on persons who are distinguished for rare personal character and reputation, and for extraordinary, notable accomplishments. It is the highest order of knighthood in the Catholic Church that a layman can attain.

The new knights are:

Robert E. Campbell, a generous benefactor of the diocese, particularly in the areas of Catholic education and campus ministry.

Volunteers needed May 27 to pack boxes

Somerset Patriots host event at Commerce Bank Ballpark; free tickets to all participants

The Chronicle and the Somerset Patriots, sponsors of Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005, have put out a call for volunteers to help package and prepare boxes for shipping to U.S. troops stationed overseas.

The May 27 event will be held at Commerce Bank Ballpark in Bridgewater and will be the fifth high-profile event organized by OPSHBX since its inception last year.

Volunteers will select toiletry and snack items from marked bins and place them in plastic bags which are then sealed and placed into boxes for shipping. Registration will take place beginning at 11 a.m. and the packing will begin at noon after a short orientation session.

Refreshments will be available at the ballpark's concession stand.

Over the past 15 months, OPSHBX has raised over $75,000 and shipped 6,000 care packages to U.S. armed services personnel in Iraq, Kuwait and Afghanistan.

The goal is to package at least 1,000 boxes. The United States Postal Service will park a portable postal unit at the ballpark to help expedite the shipping process.

Volunteers will be joined by some of the Patriots ballplayers and members of the armed forces who have returned home from serving in the Mideast.

Previous OPSHBX events in Somerville, Bridgewater, Franklin and Manville succeeded because of the efforts of hard-working, earnest volunteers, many of them youngsters from Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops, school clubs, church and synagogue organizations and civic groups. We encourage youth groups, Little League teams and school organizations to participate, but we ask that these groups have adult supervision as well.

We plan on finishing up between 4 and 5 p.m. to allow enough time for the Patriots'

Alice in the Attic

"Alice in The Attic," an original play now in rehearsals and featuring dozens of young Branchburg students, has been dedicated to U.S. troops deployed overseas.

Presented by the township's Recreation Department May 19-20 at the Whiton Road School, this marks the third time the student performers have dedicated their evening performances to U.S. military personnel.

The cast will be visited by several soldiers and Marines who have returned from the Mideast, and who were recipients of care packages shipped overseas by Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 volunteers.

Last April, the students performed "Darn Yanks" and later that year, "I Love Lulu." Both times, the cast, numbering dozens of grade school and middle school students, asked audience members to donate supplies, and drop them off at the performances in lieu of paid admission.

The donated goods, and cash contributions, have been delivered to Operation Shoebox New Jersey 2005 headquarters at The Chronicle office each time where they were sorted and shipped overseas. Many of the students will attend the May 27 shipping date at the ballpark.

All shows have been sell outs, with more than 600 people attending each performance.

The Recreation Department next week will send home information sheets with each student, including the list of items requested by the troops.

The list includes suntan lotion, non-aerosol bug repellent, lip balm, batteries, eye drops, powder, gum and hard candy, dry drink mixes, beef jerky, pull-top canned fruit and canned tuna, snack and cereal bars, pretzels, chips and crackers (snack size packages).

staff to get ready for the 7:05 p.m. game against the Pennsylvania Road Warriors.

To acknowledge the hard work of each volunteer, the Patriots will provide a free ticket to a future game.

Those interested in participating must pre-register by calling (908) 575-6684 or via email at rhirsch@njnpublishing.com.

Further information is available at the Patriots website, www.somersetpatriots.com and nj.com/shoebx or by calling (908) 575-6684.

The photo accompanying today's column is one of several that were sent to us by Staff Sgt. Sais Singh, a 1993 graduate of Somerville High School who arrived in Iraq last November.

Singh has written often, and sent images of himself and his fellow soldiers mingling with Iraqi civilians; this time, however, his photos show the dark, ominous realities of what they face each day. The captions accompanying each photo are equally chilling - "bomb making stuff," "car bomb remains," "mortars and small mines."

Singh writes: "An Iraqi police officer that I have become acquainted with very excitedly came over to me and said 'Sergeant Sais, we found some explosives.'"

I responded, 'Where are they?'

He points to a spot on the ground about two feet away and says 'right here.'

COURTESY SSGT. SAIS SINGH

Mortar shells and artillery rounds uncovered in a Baghdad neighborhood are pictured in this photograph taken by Army SSGT. Sais Singh, a 1993 graduate of Somerville High School.

Performances are Friday, May 19, 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, May 20, 7 p.m.

Further information is available by calling the Recreation Department at (908) 526-1300, extension 187.

Champagne Open

Golfers are needed to tee off in support of U.S. troops overseas.

Slots are available for four-somes in the 6th annual June 7 Champagne Open held at Beaver Brook Country Club in Annandale.

The Champagne Open was one of last year's biggest fund raising events for OPSHBX, with golfers and corporations contributing more than $10,000 to help the cause.

This year's event will also feature several celebrities, including former "Saturday Night Live" comic Joe Piscopo, a strong OPSHBX supporter since its founding last year and actor Joe Lisi, who's appeared in The Sopranos, Law and Order, Third Watch and other TV series and movies. Lisi, who served in The Marines, is also hoping to bring other New York actors, all Army and Marine veterans.

The day includes a round of golf, cocktail hour and awards dinner.

The fee is $200 per golfer; hole sponsorships are also available.

It's a great day for a noble cause.

Call "Champagne" Tony D'Angelo at (201) 896-6251 for further information.

Student activities

Scott Pierson, a senior at Parsippany Hills High School in Morris County is coordinating a collection drive for OPSHBX at his school, with 75 classrooms participating.

In addition to collecting items for shipment to the troops, several of the classrooms are writing letters to be included in the packages.

"I believe we should do everything we can to help our troops," Pierson said. "They sacrifice so much; it's the least we can do to help out."

Pierson will be attending the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, and hopes to become an aviator.

We also received a call from Shannon Zimmitti of Branchburg on behalf of the state 4-H Clubs this week who tells us that the organization will be conducting a collection drive to benefit OPSHBX this month and next. Macy Compton will be coordinating the effort from her office in New Brunswick.

Rod Hirsch is executive editor of The Chronicle. He can be reached at (908) 575-6684 or email rhirsch@njnpublishing.com

Financial contributions needed

Operation Shoebox: New Jersey 2005 and The Hunterdon County Bulldogs Marine detachment are seeking cash donations in support of their ongoing effort to supply American forces overseas with a steady supply of personal items, toiletries and snacks.

The Hunterdon County Bulldogs, whose members are Marine veterans, is a registered 501(c)(3) non-profit organization under the Internal Revenue Service code. All contributions are tax-deductible.

All contributions are dedicated to the purchase of supplies and costs of shipping. Operation Shoebox: New Jersey 2005 is an all-volunteer operation. Depending on weight, it costs between $8 and $15 to ship each box overseas.

Checks should be made out to Hunterdon County Bulldogs, with the instructions "Operation Shoebox NJ 2005" written on the memo line. Checks should be mailed to:

Triumphant return

Record crowd welcomes league champion Somerset Patriots; team salutes veterans in downtown parade

It's been a busy week for the Somerset Patriots.

The defending Atlantic League champions returned from Florida last Wednesday after spending 10 days at their Spring Training complex in Lakeland, Fla., and barely had enough time to unpack before they met team sponsors and supporters at a brunch Thursday at Carrabba's Italian Grill in Green Brook. That night, fans were invited to Commerce Bank Ballpark to watch the Patriots final pre-season workout, and last Friday was opening day, with a record opening day crowd of 7,125 on hand for the game and post-game fireworks display.

The Patriots dropped two of three games to the Atlantic City Surf.

On Tuesday, Somerset County provided the team's official welcome home, with a parade down Main Street in Somerville.

"The Parade of Champions," sponsored by The Patriots, the District Management Corp. and The Chronicle, doubled as a salute to U.S. military personnel.

The Patriots resumed play yesterday with an afternoon game in Newark, and play again tonight against the Bears, the first of two road games before returning to Commerce Bank Ballpark tomorrow night for a 7:05 p.m. game against the Lancaster Barnstormers.

Hsu, doubles sweep key B-R title effort

By DAVE ALLENA
Staff Writer

BERNARDS — After surviving Saturday's tense action, Bridgewater-Raritan High came back the following day to show why it still rates as the county's top team.

Winning three flights and taking runnerup honors in another, the Panthers claimed their fifth straight Somerset County Tournament crown at the Pingry School by a rather comfortable — and maybe a bit surprising to some — 22-17 margin over Montgomery.

In arguably the strongest tennis county in the state, Bridgewater-Raritan once again stood head and shoulders above the other contenders by winning all five quarterfinal matches and four of five in the semifinals.

Freshman Eric Hsu earned the title at third singles, and the junior duo of Josh Lee-Anesh Devi claimed their second doubles crown, adding No. 1 doubles laurels to last year's No. 2 championship.

Juniors Rob Cooperman and Anup Bhujle coasted at second doubles, earning the clinching point, while senior Scott Van Dorn finished second at second singles.

For second-year Head Coach Curt Weaver, his second county crown proved to be better than the first.

"I think this is more meaningful because at the beginning of the season no one expected us to be this good," he said. "The kids have matured. There's been a lot of growth."

"This shows the product of the work they've put in, and as it turns out we won easier this year than we did last year. We won more matches this year, and I think the county is better this year. Montgomery had a chance to win at the start of the final round, and they played well."

"The kids loved winning this. They really wanted it. There are a lot of expectations on this team, a lot of pressure on them to do well and when you see them come through like they did it's nice."

Unlike a year ago when the rain-delayed tourney wasn't won until Devi-Lee won at second doubles, the Panthers wrapped up the title when Cooperman-Bhujle made quick work of Pingry's Chris Black-Sam Adriance for a 6-3, 6-0 victory.

The other two flight titles came in three-set battles with Hsu topping Rutgers Prep's Bobby Reiss 6-3, 4-6, 6-2 and Devi-Lee posting a 6-2, 3-6, 7-5 verdict over Montgomery.

All three B-R champions upheld their top seeds with the once-beaten Hsu going to three sets for only the second time.

"Going into the third set I was feeling pretty good," said

Hsu. "I wasn't tired, and I knew what I wanted to do. I wanted to get my serves in and get more backhands in. I was able to do those things. (Reiss) was a big hitter. I'm more consistent, and I think that was the difference."

Lee-Devi improved to 16-1 on the season and 40-4 as varsity teammates with a near carbon-copy victory over their Montgomery rivals. During a dual match the Panthers fell behind 0-3 in the third set before rallying to win, and they had to do that again Sunday.

"It almost seems like we gain confidence when we get down," Devi said. "I don't know what it is, but it seems we gain confidence when we get down. We both want it bad. That's our mentality. We both want it more than the other team. We have a second gear we can both shift to at any time."

Trailing like that has been commonplace for the junior tandem, which also played together as freshmen at No. 1 doubles for the junior varsity.

"We've encountered this situation a lot this year," Lee said. "We were down 3-0 to Montgomery earlier in the season but we just got into it and came back to win. It feels great. It's definitely more meaningful winning first doubles. That means you're the best doubles team in the entire county."

B h u j l e -

Cooperman, also with just one loss this spring, had their toughest match in the semifinals. After opening with a love victory in the quarters, they survived a test from Watchung Hills' Jared Fand-Ian Schneiderman in a 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 clash before easily dispatching their Pingry opponents in the final.

"They won a lot more easily today," Weaver said of Cooperman-Bhujle. "They didn't play as well Saturday. They got through a tight one with Watchung Hills, and today they played very well."

Early games didn't lack late dramatics

BRIDGEWATER — It could've been better in terms of wins and losses. But it couldn't have been much more exciting.

Thanks to pulling out a last-inning victory Saturday night, the Somerset Patriots avoided an 0-for-3 start to the Atlantic League of Professional Baseball season. The other two games went into extra innings.

Following two straight days off — an unprecedented Monday-Tuesday scheduling trend that will hold forth during the season's first four weeks — the defending champion Patriots were slated to visit the Newark Bears for games Wednesday and Thursday before returning home to Commerce Bank Park last night to begin a three-game weekend series with the Lancaster Barnstormers. The teams also tangle 7:05 tonight and 1:35 p.m. tomorrow.

A huge positive Somerset Manager Sparky Lyle could take out of the season-opening three-game home set with Atlantic City is there certainly appears to be little wrong with the Pats' pitching, which was by far the league's best a year ago.

Starter Jason Shiell went five solid innings Sunday afternoon, allowing one run, but the Patriots ultimately dropped a back-and-forth 5-3 decision in 15 innings as 5134 fans looked on.

Somerset got a strong effort from Billy Sylvester the night before in a game the Pats won 2-1 on Larry Barnes' ninth-inning two-run double and Andy Van Hekken and the relief corps were outstanding on opening night, when defensive lapses proved highly costly.

The Surf took a 1-0 lead into the ninth inning Sunday before the Pats tied it up when Fernando Lunar reached on an error and pinch-runner Pat Boran scored on George Sandel's double down the right-field line.

AC designated hitter Todd Leathers ripped a home run off Hector Almonte in the 10th but the home team again battled back to keep things going, with Travis Anderson's bases-filled fielder's choice grounder sending in the run that re-tied the game 2-2.

Again, Atlantic City took the lead in the 13th when David Housel singled in a run. But, again, Somerset evened things up in its next at-bat when Jim Burt singled, moved up on pitcher Mike Johnson's sacrifice bunt and scored on Mike Lockwood's hit.

The Surf scored two unearned runs in the 15th to finally win it. Joe Giannetti reached when pitcher Ben Crockett booted a roller in front of the mound, Demetrius Heath singled to put runners at the corners and Gary Johnson lofted a sacrifice fly ball. Heath then stole home for a 5-3 cushion.

Shiell allowed six hits and a first-inning run during his five innings on the mound before he was replaced by Keith Ramsey, who yielded two hits during the next 3 2/3 innings. Almonte then came in to finish out the ninth but Leathers connected off him for the go-ahead homer in the 10th.

Burt went 3 for 7 including a double and Immaculata High graduate Tony Gsell, playing shortstop for the second straight game, had two hits as the No. 2 man in the batting order.

Patriots 2, AC 1 — Barnes' two-strike, two-out ninth-inning double off Domingo Acosta — the Surf's fifth pitcher of the evening — gave the Patriots a thrilling victory Saturday in front of 5745 fans.

Lockwood started the winning rally with a one-out single and, after Gsell struck out, Jeff Nettles dumped a single into center field. The lefty-swinging Barnes then

Barnes had two of the Pats' five hits in the game as the pitching of Sylvester, Nick Bierbrodt, Adam Larson and Almonte kept them close long enough.

Sylvester gave up two hits, one run and two walks while fanning seven batters in 5 2/3 innings. Bierbrodt and Larson allowed one hit between them before Almonte came in for the ninth, permitting one hit and striking out two.

AC 3, Patriots 2 — Leathers belted a two-out homer to left-center off Jason Olson in the 10th inning April 28, giving the Surf the victory in front of 7125 fans, an opening-game record for Commerce Bank Park.

Somerset had forced extra innings only moments earlier when consecutive two-out hits by Barnes and Ryan Radmanovich produced a ninth-inning run and a 2-2 deadlock. Barnes' double, his first hit as a Patriot, went into the right-field corner and the lefty-swinging Radmanovich lined an outside 2-2 pitch for a single to left to send him in.

The Surf had scored the game's first two runs, both unearned because of shortstop Boran's throwing error, in the third with hits by Al Benjamin and Clyde Williams accounting for the RBI off starting pitcher Van Hekken.

Van Hekken, who yielded four hits, two walks and fanned five, exited after four innings and Crockett and Mike Johnson came in to throw four innings of no-hit relief.

Somerset got on the board in the fourth when third baseman Nettles, who, like Boran, committed two throwing errors, hit a ground-rule double to center, advanced to third on a passed ball and scored ahead of a double-play as Radmanovich got caught in a run-down long enough to enable Nettles to first cross home plate.

Pats Get Their Rings —

The Somerset Patriots' Mike Lockwood is tagged out by Atlantic City's Clyde Williams trying to get back to first base during the April 28 ALPB season debut, won by the Surf 3-2 in front of 7125 fans at Commerce Bank Park.

Prior to the season-opener, the Patriots received their 2005 championship rings as well as the ALPB trophy in an on-the-field presentation. Nine returning players from last year's team received their rings along with Manager

Sparky Lyle, coaches Brett Jodie and Liam Healy and former standouts Emiliano Escandon and Billy Hall.

Somerville extends softball winning streak

Scoring both of its runs in the sixth inning Tuesday, Somerville High notched its fifth successive softball triumph by a 2-1 margin over visiting North Warren.

"I think we're definitely meshing better as a team right now, and it shows on the field," said SHS Head Coach Amy Lawless after watching her Pioneers (8-6) avenge an earlier loss in Blairstown. "We're playing tough."

North Warren (7-8) scored in the sixth off Lindsay Lehman, who pitched a four-hitter while walking no one and striking out nine batters.

But the Pioneers came right back in their half of the inning. Lauren Markakis drilled a single and when the ball was misplayed by the leftfielder, she was able to circle the bases. Then Laura Breznak and Jessica Magliaro singled and Katie Flood belted a run-scoring double to center.

Flood (who tripled), Magliaro and Markakis had two hits apiece.

SHS 14, Plainfield 1 — The host Pioneers totaled 17 hits and took advantage of some shaky defense by Plainfield (6-8) to win Monday's non-league contest in six innings.

Laura Nevar, who went 2 for 2, drilled a bases-filled triple in the opening stanza and Briana Gallicchio singled and also ended the game by swatting a three-run double to cap a five-run sixth. Flood and Markakis also had two hits each. Lehman gave up four hits and two walks and struck out 11.

SHS 7, Bound Brook 0 —

Lehman pitched a two-hitter and Janelle Jegou belted a three-run homer over the fence Saturday, helping the ninth-seeded Pioneers oust No. 8 Bound Brook (7-5) from the Somerset County Tournament. SHS was scheduled to visit top-rated Montgomery last night in a quarterfinal matchup.

Lehman, who also tripled, walked no one and struck out 10 for the visitors, who scored twice in the second inning and four times in the fifth to take command. Nevar drove in two runs with a single and double, Magliaro singled in a run and Breznak's triple chased home another run.

SHS 15, South Hunterdon 0 — Lehman pitched a five-inning perfect game, striking out 11 along the way, and Nevar went 2 for 4 including a two-run triple April 27 in Lambertville. The Pioneers wrapped up the game with a nine-run fifth.

SHS 5, Franklin 4 — Laura Chambers had four hits, including a triple, and an RBI to help the Pioneers get past last-seeded Franklin (0-9) in a county tourney preliminary-round game April 26. Breznak and Lehman had RBI singles, Tara Sullivan tripled and Lehman pitched the final two innings (allowing a run and fanning five) to earn the pitching decision.
