rive Streets to be Named for Local Veterans

By Patricia Abbott

I watched the flag pass by one day. It fluttered in the breeze. A young airman saluted it. And then he stood at ease. I looked at him in uniform, So young, so tall, so proud; With hair cut square and eyes alert,

I thought how many men like him, Had fallen through the years. How many died on foreign soil? How many mothers' tears?

He stood out in any crowd.

How many pilots' planes shot down? How many died at sea? How many fox holes were soldiers graves? No, freedom is not free.

I heard Taps sound one night, When everything was still. I listened to the bugle play, And felt a sudden chill

I wondered just how many times, Taps had meant "Amen," When a flag had covered a coffin, Of a brother or a friend.

I thought of all the children Of the mothers and the wives. Of the fathers, sons, and husbands, With interrupted lives.

I thought about a graveyard, At the bottom of the sea, Of unmarked graves at Arlington. No, Freedom Is Not Free!

Memorial Day is designated as the day to remember and honor those who fought for our country-men and women who gave their lives to preserve our freedom. South Plainfield can be proud of the fact that our local veterans are honored year-round throughout the borough. We honor them at Veterans' Park where a Vietnam memorial resides, and at the Veterans' memorial which stands in front of Borough Hall. Ceremonies are held on both Memorial and Veteran's Day by members of the VFW and American Legion. Franklin School's well known Annual Veteran's Day program is also held each year. The DAR and other organizations decorate graves of veterans, and the McCriskin Funeral Home Decemher tree-lighting is dedicated in memory of the 101st Airborne ser- Court for Edward K. Kissam Jr.

vicemen and women killed in the 1985 Newfoundland plane crash.

Less noticeable than the ceremonies and visible stationary monuments, but equally important, are the handful of South Plainfield streets that bear a single star after the name. Naming of these roads honor South Plainfield Veterans killed in action. This tradition will be continued with plans to name newly developed streets after five World War II Veterans. The five new roads will be part of a soon-to-be-constructed development located off of Durham Ave. near Rt. 287. Construction of the apartments is set to begin later this year. The new roads will be named Cook Lane for Robert Cook, Wenzel Court for Carl Wenzel, Jr., Carbray Court for Robert N. Carbray, Rustay Court for Donald M. Rustay and Kissam

Seaman 1st Class Robert Cook grew up on Roosevelt Avenue near Harris Steel. He attended South Plainfield public schools and was a boy scout. He enlisted in the Navy and was serving aboard a destroyer in the pacific when he was killed. There was no other information available on this sailor.

Sgt. Carl Wenzel, Jr. was born in Yugoslavia but grew up in South Plainfield. He and his parents lived in a Harris Structural Steel Co. bungalow. He attended Roosevelt School and he was employed by Harris Steel. He married Laura Barton and they lived on New Market Ave. Wenzel entered the service on November 6, 1942. He was killed on December 14, 1944 during the invasion of the Philippine Islands. He was buried with military honors in Holy Redeemer Cemetery.

PFC Robert N. Carbray lived on gion Post 243, Oak Tree Rd.

Golf Ave. with his parents. He attended Grant School and enlisted in June of 1951. After basic training he was shipped to Japan where he arrived on September 24, 1951. A letter to his mother dated September 26 told of his arrival in Korea and his imminent departure for the front. Carbray was killed in action on September 28 after spending just two days in Korea and less than four months in the army. He was buried with full military honors at Holy Redeemer Cemetery.

Information on Rustay and Kissam is not available at this time.

Two more streets are slated to be named for WW II Veterans at a later date. The honorees are Sgt. Edward Gruszcynski and Seaman 1st Class Leonard J. Piersante.

The information on the Veterans to be honored is courtesy of research by Rudy Poczak and America TAPS: Where it Began!

Once again I remove my journalistic cap to encourage everyone end about a Union man finding a to remember Veterans and to explain a bit of American history and folklore in the hope that those who have not experienced Taps will gain an insight into this American tradition. As a girl scout, the song that concluded our flag ceremonies always intrigued me and gave me chills. It was an awesome sense of something larger than I could ever imagine. The simplicity of the song and the impact of the notes; lyrics or not, could be felt long after the simple ceremony had been completed. The song seemed to lay upon you like a protective shield as an example of the complexity and simplicity of our military.

Much controversy surrounds

Taps, including a wonderful legwounded Confederate solider, only to discover it to be his son.

Lyrics for TAPS

"Fading light dims the sight, And a star gems the sky, gleaming

From afar drawing nigh-Falls the "Day is done, gone the sun, From the lake, from the hills, from

All is well, safely rest, God is nigh. "Then good night, peaceful night, Till the light of the dawn shineth

God is near, do not fear-Friend, good night."

In My Opinion

Letters

To the Editor;

Some of the hiring practices exercised by the South Plainfield governing body leave something to be desired.

A position was opened up at the Department of Public Works recently. Many applications were received from borough residents as well as non-borough residents.

One of the job qualifications is to be a borough resident for at least six months prior to being hired. Common sense would dictate one should first consider the applicants who are borough residents.

Among the borough applicants were an ex-fire chief (who gave many hours of his time serving the borough's volunteer fire dept.) and a "911" operator.

The final outcome was that someone was hired who is not a South Plainfield resident. I questioned the council regarding this and was told the new employee had agreed to move to South Plainfield within his first year of employment.

A resident who has served his community for many yeas as a volunteer was passed over for a nonresident. To say the nonresident was more qualified is an insult. To play politics is one thing, but doesn't "charity begin at home." What you sow so shall you reap.

To the Editor,

I want express my deepest gratitude for your coverage of the boys soccer. The boys enjoyed reading about themselves at Friday's practice. Your coverage, along with the recent success of the boys and girls high school teams, is bringing the interest back into South Plainfield and our young children.

Advertisers Sought For Recreation Calendar 2000

The Recreation Department is compiling next year's Recreation calendar. By advertising in the calendar, an advertiser's name will be seen by every household in town.

Each year the Recreation Department puts out a calendar listing all the recreational activities sponsored by the department. The calendar has become an important one for the families in our community. Recreation Director Mike English explained, "We were not able to put one out this year and every day someone comes into the PAL to complain that they haven't been able to plan their activities without it."

To finance the $5,000 cost, the Recreation Department needs advertisers. The cost of 1/4 page ad is $50; ½ page ad is $100 and a full page ad is $200. Mail a check with your artwork to the Recreation Department, 1250 Maple Ave., So. Plfd., NJ 07080. If you have any questions contact Mike English at 226-7714.

as well as other expenses incurred. Their financial support is an example of their dedication to South Plainfield youth and a willingness to help with this great endeavor.

SINCERE THANKS, JOANNE HAUS, JOHN LIMYANSKY, MORRIS SAMMONS, DONNA TIERNEY THE SPMS STUDENT COUNCIL ADVISORS

Dear Nancy,

There has been a great deal of discussion by the Governor on the issue of shared services. In South Plainfield shared services with the municipal governing body and the school district is a working reality.

Some examples are sharing fuel pumping facilities for school vehicles, the assistance of Sgt. Grennier and Ms. Pat Vargo with the school districts technology committee, the effective and efficient response of the police, fire and rescue squads to our needs and the efforts of Councilman Buttigliere and Superintendent Glowacki for their services of helping to eliminate the ponding problem on Lake Street, in front of the high school. A resolution from the Board of Education was sent to the Council thanking them for their cooperation. Another example is Superintendent Glowacki's help in completing the soccer field behind the Administration Building. So Governor, we as a community are doing what you asked—send money as a form of recognition.

SINCERELY, FRANK MIKORSKI SOUTH PLAINFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION

To the Editor,

For the past five years the South Plainfield Girl Scout Community Association has hosted a Family Fun Fair and Flea Market in order to raise funds to offset our programming cost for our 600 plus members in South Plainfield. This year's Fun Fair was the most successful yet, and we are greatly indebted to all who donated items for our fair, or gave of their time and resources to make it possible.

First, we must thank the Observer for printing our announcements in the newspaper, and for the fine coverage the Fair received in the Observer. It is wonderful to live in a town with a paper that covers local events as thoroughly as you do. We also want to thank all the people who attended the Flea Market. It would not be a success without your support. Our thanks to all of the troops who had booths, non profit organizations who exhibited, flea market vendors who participated, and parents who baked and/or volunteered their time manning the various booths and tables.

And finally, we would like to express our gratitude to the following people, organizations and business for their help: Acme Market, Angelo's Ice Co., Art Directors Club of New Jersey, Bagel Pantry, Boulevard Wholesale Foods Inc., Brazilian Coffee Co., Mr. Chek, Domino's Pizzeria, Dunkin Donuts (Park Ave. Store), Edwards Food Store, Michael English, Freihofer's Baking Co., Great Atlantic Pacific Tea Co., Haisch's Bakery, John E. Borough Council Receives Thank You from School Board Mikorski read a proclamation from the Board of Education to the Council thanking the borough for its helped in resolving a drainage problem in front of the high school. When Lake Street was resurfaced last year a puddling problem appeared in front of the high school. During the winter this caused an icy condition on the road.

The public works department came out and assessed the problem. When the weather became warmer a drain and piping were installed and the road resurfaced correcting the problem. Mikorski personally

School Board member Frank thanked the council and the public works department, including Supt. of Public Works Joe Glowacki, for their help. He said this is just one case where shared services saved the school money.

> He also thanked Councilmen Ed Kubula and Ray Petronko for their help in contacting and setting up a meeting with Comcast concerning cable access to the schools. A Comcast representative, along with Sgt. Mike Grennier and Pat Vargo, recently met with school board members to discuss receiving cable access in the schools. Mikorski said the meeting was very successful.

From the South Plainfield Library

Bookmarks

By Kenneth Morgan

What's going on here? We've only just started spring and they're saying summer starts this weekend. Well, whatever season it is, here's some news from South Plainfield Library:

The Library will be closed on Sunday and Monday in observance of Memorial Day.

Our storytime programs next week are set for Tuesday at 10:30 a.m., Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. and Thursday at 1:15 p.m. Each is for children ages three and up. No registration is required; all kids are welcome. If you have any questions, please call us at (908) 754-7885 and ask for Linda Hansen.

We're between groups on the Video Circuit today. The new group for June will be ready for borrowing early next week. While we're mentioning videos, we've just added a bunch of them to both our juvenile and adult collections. New additions in our children's section include two tapes featuring episodes of "Little House on the Prairie," "Billboard Dad" with the Olsen Twins, some "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" tapes and "Power Rangers in Space." In the adult section, we now feature the acclaimed drama "Twelve Angry Men," the controversial thriller "The Manchurian Candidate," and replacement copies of two James Bond movies, "The Man with the Golden Gun" and "Moonraker." If you're interested in these or any other videos in our collection, they can be borrowed free, four to a patron, for two days.

The school year is winding down (cue the applause from the kids), but there are still reports to be written (cue the catcalls from the kids). A number of students will be checking out a variety of items for source material. This brings us to a request from the staff: please be conscious of the needs of others. Checking out every book on a particular subject may give you all the sources you need, but it'll leave many others up the proverbial creek. We don't normally impose limits on how many books can be borrowed, preferring to stick with "Any reasonable number" as a guideline. With that in mind, we ask that you please police yourselves on this matter. Also, be advised that reference books, while they can be photocopied, normally do not leave the Library. While some can be checked out, it is only at the discretion of the Reference Department, and then only for a limited time.

Finally, while still on the subject of books, here's a word about children's books. At present, beyond the usual fiction and nonfiction categories, we don't separate different types of children's books. The exceptions to this are new books, and three very popular series of books. We've separated out books in the "Arthur", "Magic School Bus" and, most recently, "Franklin" series. We've done this to allow kids to find these very popular books more easily. They're presently found on the small shelves directly under the display wall in the children's room. But, be advised, they don't stay there for long, especially the "Franklin" books. You might want to try putting a reserve on those books.

Time to close out this week's column. We'll bring you more news next time. By then, maybe we'll figure out which season it is, after all.

SPOTLIGHT on Independent Cellular

Independent Cellular, located at 18 South Plainfield Ave., is owned and operated by Kenneth Falcone. Working alongside Kenneth is his girlfriend, Sandy Teixeira, giving the business a distinctively family feel. After working for a similar company, Kenneth and Sandy found that they were not happy with the way the company did business. Ken felt that more emphasis should be placed on the customers and their satisfaction. Independent Cellular was founded with this goal in mind.

The company opened its doors in South Plainfield in November of 1998. "Anyone can put a pen in front of you and watch you sign on the dotted line," said Ken. "It's the service you get after the fact that will bring you back to us next time. We're here for the customer. We are obviously here to make money, but not at any one individual's expense. This is the store you can get your merchandise, come back six months later with a question, and we'll take the time with you. That's what we do." Sandy said, "Customer service is our most impor-

Independent Cellular offers Comcast Cellular ONE service with inexpensive personal, family and business rate plans. Customers get a free DIGITAL cellular telephone with all plans. They carry a full line of cellular accessories as well as pagers and pager accessories. They also carry a variety of 911 emergency phones in stock at all times. Ken noted, "These phones make excellent gifts for Father's Day and upcoming graduations. The phones are not online with any service provider so there is no monthly service fee or contract/credit check involved, yet you get the peace of mind of knowing that in case you need help-it'll be there." All prices are extremely competitive, lower than most stores in the area.

The store has big plans for expansion in the next few weeks. The expansion will include carrying automobile accessories such as popout and pull-up sunroofs, fog lights, rims, headlight bulbs, radar detectors and headlight/taillight covers. Pre-paid cellular phones will arrive shortly. These are a great way to give customers the option of no contract or monthly service fees.

The store is open Monday through Saturday and is open late at least one night during the week allowing those with hectic work or family schedules the opportunity to visit the store. Sandy is in charge of all outside sales, appearing at most trade shows and events, while Ken works in the store trying to get the business involved in new and different things.

Ken was born and raised in nearby Colonia, while Sandy hails from north Jersey.

Ken said "We like to get involved in things that concern the community, because it's the community and its businesses that make this town what it is." They have made donations to the local schools. Most recently, Independent Cellular participated in the annual Girl Scout Flea Market as a vendor and helping to raise funds. They donated to Sacred Heart's Chinese Auction. Kenneth and Sandy agree that being a part of community activities such as the fair gives them a chance to meet and greet the people of the community in a family fun atmo-

Local Student to Visit Yosemite and San Francisco

A delegation of sixth grade students, including Shawn Ferguson from South Plainfield, has been selected by the People To People Student Ambassador Program to visit Yosemite National Park and the San Francisco Area this summer as a representative of our area.

Shawn, together with fifty other student ambassadors from Somerset, Hunterdon, Mercer, Hunterdon and Middlesex Counties, will spend two weeks learning about the environment and nature in Yosemite National Park and the San Francisco Bay Area. They will participate in various hikes through Tuolumne Grove and the Yosemite Valley, as well as visit the Ahwaneechee Village Southern Sierra Miwok Tribal Museum. Students will travel to the Golden Gate Recreation Area just north of San Francisco and explore the Headlands Institute and the Marine Mammal Recovery Center, as well as hike the San Francisco area.

Each student ambassador is selected on the basis of recommendations, including school references and personal interviews with members of a screening committee from their local community. Once students are accepted into the program, they prepare for their trips by attending orientation meetings, and by studying background materials on the region and facilities they will visit. Young Americans have served as student ambassadors both here and abroad since 1963. As a result, many former ambassadors have been inspired to pursue international careers in business, law, government service and teaching.

The Student Ambassador Program is operated under the auspices of People to People International, a non-political, private-sector organization founded by President Eisenhower in 1956 to further international goodwill and understanding.

Students may obtain high school or university credit through participation in the program and may be eligible for grants. For more information please contact: National Office People to People Student Ambassador Program at (800) 669-7882.

Dear Dr. DeCosta: Is uneven wearing of the heals of your shoes due to a foot problem, a leg problem or a back problem? - W.T.

Uneven wearing of the heals of shoes can be due to either a foot, leg or back problem, or a combination of any or all of these problems. Most commonly, however, uneven heel wear is due to back problems or problems with a physiological or anatomical short leg.

We all know that gravity works in a downward direction. Your body's weight is transferred from your skull down the spine to your pelvis. From the pelvis, the weight is transferred down your thigh, knee, leg and finally to the foot. If the center of mass of your body is thrown off due to a misalignment or imbalance in the spine or pelvis, your body's weight will be unevenly distributed down to your feet. This may cause uneven heel wear to the extremity bearing more of your body's weight.

A shortness in one leg may lead to uneven heel wear. If the pelvis is misaligned, it may cause one leg to raise up and try to compensate to the pelvic misalignment. Although the leg is truly not shorter than the other, it has the appearance and effect as though it were shorter. This is known as a physiological short leg. Again, your weight will be unevenly distributed down your lower extremity and uneven heel wear may result. The good news is that with proper adjustment of the pelvis, the leg will no longer draw short and the legs will again become even. This will result in a balanced distribution of weight down the extremities and should correct the uneven shoe wear.

A shortness in one leg may be actual, that is, one leg is literally shorter than the other. This is termed an anatomical short leg. It may be caused by a disruption in development of the growth plates in the bones of the leg, a previous fracture in which the leg did not heal and grow to the size of the other leg, congenital defects or other developmental anomalies. Most authorities agree that the body can compensate for an anatomical short leg up to 6mm of deficiency. If 6mm or more of deficiency exists, then a heel lift may be needed to help the body to compensate for that deficiency. As with the physiological short leg, the anatomical short leg similarly may affect uneven heel wear.

It should be noted that both an anatomical and physiological shortness of the leg can and usually are found occurring at the same time. By the way, this unevenness of leg length may lead to spinal problems, in particular a scoliosis or curvature of the spine. A proper Chiropractic evaluation can address this problem and help with the resulting uneven heel wear and related development of scoliosis.

If there is indeed a problem with the foot itself, I would recommend an examination by a Doctor of Podiatric Medicine.

Boys Under 10 Finish Season With Win

son on a positive note. After suffering their third loss of the season to Franklin Twp. the week before, events seemed to go unchanged when the boys traveled to Piscataway.

The first half proceeded to finish in a scoreless tie. The second half began with two quick unanswered goals for Piscataway. The team then calmed themselves down After a foul outside the penalty area a free kick was award- to 3-2 final. A fantastic job by the is 6-3-1. Congratulations!

United finished the 1999 sea- ed and Kevin Bolivar did not waste the chance and put the ball deep into their net. This motivated Steve Breslau to break away from the Piscataway defense and bring the game to a 2-2 standoff.

The team finally put the crowd of wet supporters back into their cars when Nicky Baldesarre broke through a maze of players and then unselfishly passed to John Lopez, which he vollied into the Piscataway net, bringing the game boys didn't go unnoticed.

A special thanks to the parents for their time and commitment. The boys' season ending record

Boys Season Ends in Quarter Finals

South Plainfield Tiger boys baseball team ended their exciting 1999 campaign with a heart breaking 6-5 loss to John F. Kennedy (Iselin) in the quarter final round of the Central Jersey Group II State Tournament.

As has been the case in many of the Tigers' games this season, South Plainfield had the big inning early in the second inning. With two on and one out Bob Merkler blasted a three-run homer as the Tigers went on to score in the inning to go up by three. JFK added one of their own in the bottom of the inning to cut the lead to two. It stayed that way until the fifth when Ryan Flannery hit a bomb of his own to give Tiger ace Steve Bucchignano a three run cushion.

Kennedy had their big inning in the seventh, scoring three to set up the extra frame. The Mustangs managed to push one across in the bottom of the eighth to seal the victory. The Tigers ended their season a very respectable 17-10 and a few school records were either tied or broken this year. Mike Kapsch breaking the career home run mark and the season hits record and pitcher Steve Bucchignano set the career wins mark with 23.

Girls Advance In GMC Tournament, Bow in States

The Tiger girls softball team began last weekend with a 1-0 victory over Raritan in the quarterfinal round of the Central Jersey Group II state tournament. The story of the game was Junior Kim Wilcox's RBI double in the third inning giving South Plainfield their only run and junior pitcher Alison Barrett did the rest, pitching a four hit shut out, striking out four and walking no one.

Another game another gem by Alison as the Tigers opened up super Saturday in the Greater Middlesex Conference County tournament with a 4-1 win over the Bombers from Sayerville. This time Ms. Barrett surrendered only two hits as the Tigers broke it open in the sixth inning scoring all four runs on no hits. Next game was Wednesday...story next week.

As for the State Tournament, the Tigers traveled to one time rival North Plainfield and were thoroughly shut down by Canuck ace Tara Duffy 3-0. All North Plainfield's runs came in the second inning on a bases loaded double by Terry Castro. The Tigers managed only five hits and will now turn their attention to the GMC semi-finals and a match-up with Old Bridge.

WHEN ALL SEEMS DIMINISHED

A man who had recently lost his mother after a lengthy illness was once heard to remark that it seemed the flowers had little right to bloom during the spring following his mother's death. He found little of his usual joy in the warming sun and the color and scent of the flowers. Surely, the flowers had done little to diminish themselves in his eyes. The trouble lay in his perception. This same feeling is noted in the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson: "There is a kind of contempt of the landscape felt by him who has just lost by death a dear friend. The sky is less grand as it sets down over less worth in the popu-

History tells that Union General Daniel Adams Butterfield was not pleased with the call for 'Lights Out." He wanted something less formal to signal the days' end. Taps was composed in 1862 during the Peninsula Campaign of the Civil War by Butterfield (Third Brigade, First Division, Fifth Army Corps, Army of the Potomac). The composition was assisted by his bugler, Oliver W. Norton. Butterfield whistled a tune to Norton and they spent many hours rearranging and polishing the notes that became the now famous Taps. The 24-note melancholy bugle call is believed to be a revision of "Tattoo," a French bugle call that signaled soldiers to end the evening's pleasantries and return to their barracks. The last five measures of the Tattoo vaguely resemble taps according to the stories.

In Butterfield's camp, Taps quickly replaced the original "lights out" that signaled the end of the day for the weary soldiers. Curiosity drove nearby brigades to Butterfield's camp to inquire about the bugle call. Pleased with the call, many adopted Taps as the evening's end for themselves. Taps soon came to represent a farewell to fallen servicemen and women. Composer General Butterfield is buried in the Post Cemetery at the United States Military Academy at West Point despite the fact that he did not graduate from the Academy.

Taps was played at the funeral of Confederate Gen. Stonewall Jackson. This music was made the official Army bugle call after the war, but not given the name Taps until 1874. Army infantry regulations required Taps to be played at military funeral ceremonies by 1891.

Taps is unique to the United States military, the haunting and lovely bugle melody is sounded at funerals at Arlington National Cemetery. Taps is also sounded during the 2,500 military wreath ceremonies conducted at the Tomb of the Unknowns every year, including Memorial Day.

Even today on many military installations Taps is played at 10 p.m. as a signal that it is "lights out". When Taps is played, it is customary to salute, if in uniform, or place your hand over your heart.

Quote: Our past travels remembered in our hearts, our future dreams colored

GEMINI 5/21-6/03 excellent time starting Monday to tackle any problems you haven't been able to figure out. Mercury trines Uranus, ideas will come to you in furious successions of why didn't I think of that before. Sign up for classes in the areas of science, math and technology. Stimulating conversation

CANCER 6/21-7/22 do you have an attraction to a person of the opposite sex? The fact they have a different personality then that of your own is the attraction! But be careful, any relationship that starts at this time, although interesting, might not be very stable. Moon opposition Sun, emotional attitude

LEO 7/23-8/22 be ready to make or have someone make repairs for you. Sun-Pluto contacts can cause the break down of machinery and objects. And just patching them up will not suffice. Be careful of people in authority a power struggle could ensue, stand up for your position. But do not be overweening or domineering.

VIRGO 8/23-9/22 feel lost in the fog? Can't find something you had a moment ago? Forgot a name or bit of information you know you know? These can be the events that will happen around Tuesday. So be careful in business and or signing a contract. Don't be a victim. Save the details for some other day. Mercury challenging Neptune.

LIBRA 9/23-10/22 do some writing or better yet, paint! Your artistic energies are flowing. Your color balancing is at a peek, and the colors will move so smooth you will amaze yourself and your backers of your art that is being created. Also with a Moon in Libra this will favor any partnerships that are formed.

SCORPIO 10/23-11/21 you are looking for love. Around the 30th Moon conjuncts Pluto and you will not be looking or wasting your time with casual relationships. You want to wait for this rare and elusive person rather than fall in love impulsively. You are truly craving the depth of human companionship. Seek out a Pisces, it will be found.

SAGITTARIUS 11/22-12/21 have you been suspicious of others lately? Starting the 29th Moon is in Sagittarius and you will become more honest and direct in your dealings with others. If you have a need to get away, go for it. A nice little vacation to anyplace USA will do wonders. Memorial Day kick off your shoes and have fun.

CAPRICORN 12/22-1/19 you have a Mars opposition to Jupiter, a very powerful transit. Be sure to think intelligently and work effectively with enlightened self-interest as opposed to pure selfishness. If you act towards others in a domineering, overbearing manner you may cause them to desert you. Understand what you are doing.

AQUARIUS 1/20-2/18 time to take that vacation overseas. And where should you go? May I suggest Stockholm or Buenos Aires? Mercury trines Uranus is putting you into a very stimulating mentality. You can't wait to start a conversation that will have some electricity to it. So seek out stimulating people and listen to their insights.

PISCES 2/19-3/20 do a little shopping this weekend. You will be able to pick out the finer things in life that will make your smile last a little longer and also for your friends. Moon trines Neptune will have you generating warmth to the point where friends want to be in your company. And even more so towards the opposite sex.

ARIES 3/21-4/19 do not be lethargically inclined to drift through an enjoyable holiday weekend. That would be a waste. If you are planning ahead a Sun in cooperating aspect to Jupiter can help you plan and schedule family celebrations such as weddings, trips, beginning a vacation, or business ventures. In other words do something.

TAURUS 4/20-5/20 discordant moods can create difficulties in a relationship at this time, especially if you are having any kind of internal emotional struggle. Try to pay more attention to your loved one, a crisis can be kept small. If irritability incites you, step back take a breath and a walk. A Moon square to Sun transit can be overcome.
