Hoops for Haiti on February 25

With the recent earthquake devastation in Haiti, recreation basketball coach Pete Massett contacted Recreation Director Kevin Hughes and inquired how the town could be of assistance. From that, "Hoops for Haiti" was born.

On Thursday, Feb. 25, the recreation basketball coaches will be divided into four teams and play two, 20-minute games each at South Plainfield High School auditorium starting at 6:45 p.m. Doors will open at 6 p.m. Every volunteer head coach was invited to play in the game and, as of presstime, 40 coaches will be playing.

In addition to donating their time, and for some their bodies, each coach will be donating $10 towards the charter. There will be a $3 fee for anyone attending, and any child who wears their 2010 recreation shirt will only be charged $2. In addition, each child with a shirt will receive a ticket, and if their ticket is drawn, they will be a larged $2. In addition, each child with a shirt will receive a ticket, and if their ticket is drawn, they will be a short one short for a rife card.

lowed to take one shot for a gift card. The SPHS Athletic Booster Club will have the snack stand open and will be selling food and refreshments.

When contacted about the event Hughes stated, "South Plainfield has always been a very giving community, and this is a tremendous opportunity to make a difference globally."

All donations prior to and after the event may be dropped off at the PAL building. Checks should be made out to C.O.A.C.H.E.S-Care.

For more about the event, contact Kevin Hughes at the Recreation Department at (908) 226-7713.

South Plainfield scouts held a candle lighting ceremony commemorating 100 years of Boy Scouting at Spring Lake Park on February 8

Scouting Celebrates 100 Years

By Patricia Abbott

What is 100 years old, still growing and going strong? The answer is the Boy Scouts of America. On February 8 Boy Scouts throughout the nation celebrated the 100 birthday of Boy Scouting. The South Plainfield scouting community joined in the celebration with a special evening candlelighting ceremony in Spring Lake Park.

The bitter cold and snow covered ground did not deter the scouts and their families. Bundled up to brave the weather, flag bearing scout troops and cub packs, along with their families, marched together from the basketball courts to the gazebo following a path lined with luminaries and then gathered around the outside of the gazebo.

Wesley United Methodist Church Troop #309 Scoutmaster Jeff Pauls welcomed the scouts and guests. Reverend Charles Mingle led the opening prayer, followed by The Pledge of Allegiance. Each scout troop and pack were introduced, noting which school or organization sponsors them. In attendance were Cubmaster Tom Berry, Pack #207-Franklin School; Cubmaster Don Ardito, Pack #224 -Riley School; Cubmaster Scott Waters, Pack #324-Kennedy School; Scoutmaster George Smith, Troop #124-Riley School; Scoutmaster Jim Donelson, Troop #125-V.F.W.; Scoutmaster John Mocharski, Troop #267-American Legion as well as Jeff Pauls' troop.

Pauls gave a brief history of Scouting, beginning with the story of American William D. Boyce's visit to London in 1909. He had lost his way in a thick fog; came upon a youth and asked for directions. Instead of giving him directions, the youth walked Boyce to the location. When Boyce tried to reward the youth for his effort, he was turned down. The young man explained that it was his scouting pleasure to do a "good deed." When Boyce asked the youth what he meant by "scouting," the boy filled him in. The rest, as they say, is history. Boyce brought the scouting ideals home to the United States and on February 8, 1910, scouting was incorporated in the United States.

Pauls also related some facts about scouting, including: just over two million boys have reached the rank of Eagle Scout, which is the highest honor a young man can receive as a Boy Scout. Only four in 100 who joins scouting will become Eagle Scouts-that's less than one percent of the male regulation.

The list of famous individuals who have attained the rank of Eagle is impressive, ranging from all levels of government including presidents and actors, astronauts, athletes and authors. Among the notable Eagle Scouts are astronaut Neil Armstrong, the first man on moon; Bill Bradley, pro basketball star and U.S. Senator from New Jersey; James Brady-press secretary to President Ronald Reagan; Arthur Eldred, first Eagle Scout;

Library Move Not Finalized

A decision to move the South Plainfield Public Library from its present site on Plainfield Avenue to Montrose Avenue did not occur during Tuesday's Board of Trustees meeting.

Library Board President Eric Aronowitz announced at the start of the public session that no formal action would be taken that evening since negoriations are still ongoing with the landlord. He added that he hoped the board would be able to take action at its Tuesday, March 9 meeting.

Several residents attending the meeting were given the opportunity to express their opinions, and a lively discussion followed.

Opposing the move was Ed Colucci, who said he thought moving the library did not make sense. The new library site is not near any schools and there are no sidewalks for children who wish to walk there. Colucci presented a petition signed by his neighbors opposing the move.

Board Vice President Cheryl Nagel-Smiley explained that most children who use the library are usually driven there. Some of those who walk are only there to socialize and not use the library. She added that the board was discussing the idea of busing children to and from the new site and possibly using the Senior Center as a library annex. These ideas are all still in the planning stages. No final decisions have been made.

The proposed 14,500 square foot property, located at 901 Montrose Ave., is the same size as the new library building proposed about five years ago and voted down in a Democracy Week vote in May of 2008. "We have been into this process for six years and still no closer to getting a new library," said Aronowitz.

"The new library will give South Plainfield a state-of-the-art facility. It will enhance the experience for all residents, from children to senior citizens and will be a place of which we can be proud," said Nagel-Smiley.

The new library location will have no fiscal impact on taxpayers. The borough is required to give the library funding each year which will cover the costs of the lease.

After getting cabin fever during the February 6 snowstorm, Stephanie Murano decided to go outside and make something in the snow. She wanted to create something original-not just another snowman. She started making a pile, and using almost all of the snow in her front yard, shaped it into a car, and then using a spray bottle filled with watered down paint, she created her version of a snowmobile. It took her about three hours to complete.

To the Editor:

I am a resident of South Plainfield and am questioning the actions of our snow removal personnel. It is currently Friday, Feb. 12 at 5:50 p.m. I live on a secondary street, however, I just witnessed a borough plow come through several times, without salting, and just kind of poking at little piles of snow with the plow blade. My street is almost completely clear and needs no additional clearing, but the plow has now made about six es with the plow blade down and sparks flying from the dry pavement.

Is this what I am paying taxes for?

To pay the same people that made approximately 20 passes with the plow blades up on the day of the snowstorm (while collecting at least time and a half I'm sure!), even more overtime today? Not to mention the additional damage to the roadway from the plows, which I guess we can pay overtime to have repaired by them come springtime?

Maybe I'm the only one in the town noticing this? It would be an interesting topic at a town meeting I'm sure, but I cannot attend them due to the fact that I work at night. Pm sure those meetings are full of the township residents complaining that there is no money left in our budget for snow removal/road repair/etc. Thanks for your time!

Dear Editor,

Governor Christie's Executive Order, which effectively confiscates the surplus in local board of education budgets to offset the anticipated shortfall in the state budget is simply wrong.

The Governor's unilateral action, taken without the input of the state legislature, will increase property taxes in East Brunswick by $5.4M, South Plainfield by $1.6M, South River by $750,000, Metuchen and Spotswood by $400,000 each and Edison by approximately $120,000. In total the governor is raiding the accounts of some of the best performing school districts in our state by a total of about $8.5M. These are not state funds. They were raised from the property taxes paid by the hard working middle class families of the 18th legislative district who we are honored to represent.

During the campaign, candidate Christie stated that education would be a top priority of his administration. With one stroke of his pen he has reduced aid to K-12 by a half bil-lion dollars and reduced aid to higher education by over $60 million.

We agree that government must be leaner and more efficient. We support efforts to reduce costs. This imprudent action does just the opposite. It will hurt middle class families and jeopardize the education of our children.

We encourage everyone to contact the governor's office and express your outrage over this executive order. This is still a democracy after all and the v of the people must be followed. We can assure you that we will do whatever we can to reverse this decision.

Dear Mayor Butrico and Council Members,

Despite a prodigious effort to clear the Walnut Street Park stream bed of debris, and controlling knotweed infestation in the flood plain down stream, serious problems still exist in our neighborhood. These problems are due to the unexplained high water table, coupled with widespread and dramatic settling of the ground.

Let's talk about specifics: there was cave-in of about 10 feet deep in Rich McCriskin's driveway the last few years, and a large sink hole has formed in this same area about 15 feet away on the Murrell property. The very high water table and continuous sump pump flow from basements of the Luber and Johnson properties on McDonough Street and Hill Hollow Road, respectively. These basements have either experienced flooding issues with the loss of considerable property or other damage due to sump pump failure. Residents on Elizabethtown Court also have experienced the onset of sump pump usage which has not stopped since January of 2007, in one case. Also, very high volumes of water are consistently being pumped from one residence on 10th Avenue that has yet to be explained. The Johnson residents report that the issue of pumping from their basement started over five years ago.

Here is an observation that may be related to the high water table in our neighborhood: At the entrance of Walnut Street Park near McDonough Street a large erosion channel started in 2008 formed due to the runoff from Clinton Terrace. A case could be made that this increasing erosion channel is linked to the issues from the Luber and Johnson properties.

We all believe it would be prudent to build a storm culvert to handle the large flow of water from Clinton Terrace directly to the stream bed instead of using the ground at Walnut Street Park to adsorb and transport this large water flow. Another storm culvert at the entrance of Walnut Street Park at McDonough Street would also prevent surface water standing and contributing to the water table.

It was discovered in early January that the previous residents of the Johnson property had made dramatic alterations to the two entry points of the surface water flow into the buried culvert of the stream. They may not have realized that alteration at these (Continued on page 10)

Prescription Drug Safety

Prescription drugs and over-the-counter medicines, when stored or disposed of carelessly are a danger to everyone in your home, especially curious teens and small children. You might not realize it, but right now in your medicine cabinet or bathroom closet, is a potentially deadly collection of over-the-counter and prescription medications that, when taken in the wrong dose, combined or otherwise abused can lead to serious health risks.

As parents, we need to teach our children that all drugs can be harmful, especially if they are misused. In their least lethal instances, a large dose of prescription or over-the-counter medi-cations can cause difficulty breathing, nausea, vomiting, dizziness and blurred vision, while the worst cases of abuse of these same medications, can lead to coma and even death. What makes these medications such a serious threat is how readily available they are in our homes. Never assume that your child or teen will not experiment with the contents of your medicine cabinet. Children are curious by nature, especially when it comes to things they know they shouldn't touch. The bottom line is: If your kids do not have access to these medications, they can't hurt themselves with them.

Disability Advocate Jackie Jackson Receives Recognition from Borough Council

By Libby Barsky

When Tackie Tackson was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis her life gradually began to change. "I went from being an able-bodied person to using a cane, a walker, a manual wheelchair, and now I use an electric wheelchair on a daily basis to get around," said Tackson.

Tackson has been wheelchair bound for the past seven years and is very familiar with the difficulties it can present, for example where curbs are high, where buildings lack a graded section for wheelchair access, where door entrances are not wide enough to maneuver and the difficulty accessing public bathrooms not wheelchair accessible.

Being wheelchair dependent has led Jackson to become a disability advocate with a mission to break down the barriers and make access possible in public areas for all who are disabled.

"My major advocacy project is the Accessibility Tours Project in partnership with the National Multiple Sclerosis Metro Chapter to make the public and elected leaders aware about the problems of those who rely on wheelchairs," said Jackson.

Jackson's first accessibility tour took place in Franklin Township in 2006. In recognition of the 19th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), three tours were held last year in Edison, South Plainfield and Plainfield. "Td like to expand the tours from the local level to the state level, and then move to the federal level," explained Jackson.

The impact of the accessibility tour resulted in the borough council's approval and awarding of a contract to

The council is currently seeking recommendations on how the 2010 Community Development Block Grant might be used. Jackson holds a three-year term as one of five members of the Community Development

Citizens' Advisory Committee that reviews and makes recommendations to the council and mayor on the use of the grant. She is focused on recommendations that will increase access for the disabled. "My ultimate future plan is to make America fully accessible so that people with disabilities, the elderly and anyone who is challenged can actively participate into mainstream activity

Riley Students Donate $1,000 To Haiti Victims

Immediately following the devastating earthquake in Haiti, the John E. Riley School Student Council, under the direction of advisors Joanne Otlowski and Christine Dispenziere, organized a fundraiser for students. faculty and staff. More than $1,000 was collected in one day.

The student council then invited Adam LiVecchi, husband of string teacher Sarah Bruce LiVecchi, to come to Riley School and discuss his experiences during the earthquake. LiVecchi is a missionary whose organization, Precious Pearl Inc., was already in Haiti doing voluntary work when the earth-quake struck. LiVecchi and his group were fortunate to have escaped unharmed

The student council decided to donate all the money raised to his organization and presented the money to LiVecchi during the assembly. LiVecchi discussed the dire situation and showed slides. He explained that the money would be used to directly help the residents, especially the children, of a small town outside of Port-au-Prince. He described how the outlying areas of the country had also been severely affected, even though the news media focus was mainly on the capital city, and that money was urgently needed in small villages.

LiVecchi thanked the children for their generosity and for inviting him to their school.

Students Set to Compete in FIRST Robotics Competition

Sixty-one teams will face off at the annual NJ FIRST Robotics Competition, sponsored by Johnson & Johnson on Saturday, March 6 (start time: 8 a.m.) and Sunday, March 7 (start time: 9 a.m.) at the Sun National Bank Center, 81 Hamilton Ave. in Trenton. Everyone is invited. Admission is free to the public.

Established by renowned inventor Dean Kamen, FIRST is intended to spark an appreciation of science and technology in young people. This global initiative is bringing kids together from places like North America, Israel, Brazil and Turkey. In fact, at the Trenton competition there will be teams from Brazil, Puerto Rico, Texas and Virginia competing, as well as teams from Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey. Internationally, the 2010 season will include more than 1,800 teams, and 45,000 high school students participating in 50 regional and district events and culminating in a national championship at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, April 15-17.

"Breakaway" is the theme for this year's FIRST Robotics Competition. Two alliances of three teams each will compete on a playing field with bumps, attempting to earn points by collecting soccer balls in goals. Six weeks ahead of competition, registered teams receive kits containing parts needed to construct the machines, but no instructions. Working alongside professional engineers and or FIRST alumni, the high school students design, build and program their robots to meet the game's engineering challenge. They learn how to collaborate, focus on tasks and turn out an effective product. Teams are judged on design, team spirit, professionalism and ability to overcome obstacles. To successfully compete in FIRST, teams must function as entrepreneurs, creating business plans, raising funds, marketing and managing the project.

Mayor Charles Butrico presented Scoutmaster Pauls with a proclamation from the borough council recogniz-ing the 100th anniversary of the Boy Scouts. The highlight of the evening arrived when the scouts and their families lit candles in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Boy Scouts in the U.S. After the candles were lit, the boys recited the Boy and Cub Scout oaths and laws.

Bill Tuthill, a former scout leader, added a bit of local history. "The council for this area was called the Watchung Joe Lowondy, scoutmaster of Troop 24 at the VFW for many years, was in the first troop to camp there. Joe died in 1975. Over the years the camp developed a rifle range, a large swimming pool and a king-sized mess hall. The mess hall served as a training facility for many of the badges that required indoor instruction and leader training sessions The camp was sold in the 1980s for housing development. The council camp is now located in upstate New York," Turhill explained.

The mission of the Boy Scouts of America is to prepare young people to make ethical and moral choices over their lifetimes by instilling in them the values of the Scout Oath and Law. The oath reads: "On my honor I will do my best, to do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, men-tally awake, and morally straight." The Scout Law says: "A scout is trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, and reverent.

JUNIOR BASEBALL CLUB NOTES

Believe! Believe! Here's dreaming about warm, sunny, spring days...
All managers for the spring season have been notified and preparation begins with the managers' meetings. Make sure you mark the week of February 22 on your calendar: Small Fry C on Monday, Feb. 22; Small Fry B on Tuesday, Feb. 23 and Small Fry A on Wednesday, Feb. 24, all at 7:30 p.m. in the SPJBC clubhouse.

For those disappointed candidates who were not selected, be sure to express your desire to be a part of baseball education to your son's manager. Managers, be advised that all managers and coaches must have a 2010 SPJBC Membership Card and be Rutgers certified.

Player Evaluations will be held for all SFC and SFB players at the PAL building on Saturday, March 6, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Postcards will be mailed with your child's specific time to report. Attendance is important because these evaluations allow managers and coaches to select competitive teams, which leads to more fun for all players and parents. The Women's Auxiliary will be on hand to support the club. A continental breakfast and SPJBC clothing will be available for purchase.

Rutgers Certification Class-one class, one night, three hours. If you are interested in participating on the field with your child's team, a SPJBC Membership Card and Rutgers certification are a must. The only class is Thursday, March 18 in the SPJBC clubhouse beginning at 6:30 p.m. The fee will be waived for South Plainfield residents.

Volunteers Still Needed-We are looking for committee chairpersons and directors. Openings include C League Director, snack stand captains and tournament directors. Remember our organization runs on people volunteering their time. Come on out, give us a hand and get involved. It cannot happen without you. If you are interested, please call the clubhouse and leave a message.

Opening Day-The countdown begins. Saturday, April 10 is only seven weeks away. You can find all this and more information on our Web site, www.leaguelineup.com/

Please Support Our Fundraising Efforts

The SPSC spring season begins in just a few short weeks. All of our 13 teams are preparing to take to the fields on opening weekend currently scheduled for Sunday, March 14.

The preseason canning drive weekend is Saturday and Sunday, March 6 and 7. Coaches will be provided with team assignments and the dates and times will be communicated to the families shortly. Please be sure to support our players as they are out and about the town collecting. This is a big fundraiser for us and helps to support the costs of field maintenance, league fees and operating costs of the club. We appreciate everyone's support!

Our general meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 25 at 7:30 p.m., downstairs at the VFW located on Front Street. Our meetings are open to all parents in the club and we look forward to your involvement and help in supporting the club in all its many efforts. Fresh ideas are always welcome and we are always looking for help. Come on out to our meeting and meet the coaches and board members. We are available to answer any of your questions.

We are also very fortunate to be able to host the SAGE meeting for our area this year. The meeting will be held in the SPHS cafeteria on Tuesday, March, 16 at 7:30 p.m. SAGE (Set A Good Example) outlines the expectations of coaches, families and fans in general to make the game an enjoyable, safe and respectable experience for all involved. As all coaches are required to attend this meeting once per season, we also encourage parents to attend. It is a very informative and enlightening program; please consider coming out and taking part. The event is free to all. This is a great meeting for all parents, coaches and assistant coaches to attend. Regardless of what sports you enjoy, this is a great

Only if it were spring. Only if the melted ice would glisten like a thousand stars.

If the cold air would turn warmer than a summer's day. If shoveling the driveway would be playing tag.
Only if the recess would be recess. If the sun would come out again to shine forever. Wish it was spring. Wish the winter recess would be spring. \\Wish the warm days were here again. Wish it was spring.

(Continued from page 2) entry points were on borough property and was, according to Rob Russo the borough engineer for 2009. strictly illegal. These altered entry points for 30 years had flown on a regular basis from the culvert itself, in the opposite direction intended, onto the adjacent resident's property causing flash flooding of these locations. There have been at least 100 serious flooding events as described by the reverse flow from the buried culvert from these entry points in the past 30

There have been improvements in the undesirable flow from the buried stream culvert into the yards over the past year. This flash flooding issue was dramatically improved when the six major dams of the stream on the former Gallini Farm in Piscataway were removed by volunteers and with the assistance of the Middlesex County Mosquito Commission initiated by John Kranz in 2008-2009. Despite the improvements, the flash flooding in our neighborhood continues with serious settling of our neighborhood properties, in some cases quite a distance from the buried culvert. One such sink hole is the Riley property at 1228 McDonough Street.

We are encouraged that Council President Matthew Anesh has supported Borough Engineer Len Miller of T&M Associates in looking into these issues. We look forward to the analysis of the origin of the water-logging and a plan formulated for a reso-lution regardless of the current strained economic climate.

Curves Hosts Food Drive to Benefit Local Families

Curves of South Plainfield is encouraging women in the area to show their philanthropic strength by participating in the annual Curves Food Drive. And, even though donating food to families in need is its own reward, the club is offering compel-ling incentives for both existing and potential members who participate. From March 1 to 31, Curves will collect non-perishable items and monetary donations for food banks in the local area. The goal, according to Elissa Bennett of Curves, is for the community to come together to help families in need. "At the core of our business is the message that women are stronger when they rally together, and that is the point we hope to bring home with our food drive," said Bennett. "We want to show our community just how powerful the generosity of our members can be."

According to Bennett, members who donate a bag of groceries or make a minimum donation of $30 during the month of March will receive a reusable Curves grocery freezer bag for free. Non-members who do likewise between March 8 and 20 can join Curves for free. Curves will waive the cost to join.

Bennett says that as part of this effort, Curves will be participating in a company-wide contest for the most food drive donations collected by Curves locations across the nation. Winners will receive one of several cash prizes to be donated to their local food bank. Each year, Curves locations collectively donate millions of pounds of food to feed the hungry.

"We hope women in the South Plainfield area will come together and participate in this initiative," added Bennett. "Even if you're not thinking about joining a gym, you can still drop off your donations. There are so many families-right here in our own community-who need our help."

For more information about Curves of South Plainfield and the Curves Food Drive, contact Elissa Bennett at (908) 757-4422 or E-mail 9ZM8S6I@curvesmail.com.
